THE COLLEGE

The primary function of Fayetteville State College is to provide educational experiences for young men and young women that will encourage them to develop their intellectual abilities and to assume leadership positions in the State of North Carolina and the world. The College earnestly seeks to design the kind of experiences that will develop the intellectual capacities, ethical and moral standards, emotional and spiritual values, and aesthetic appreciations, which are evidences of an educated person. The College seeks to achieve these high aims by creating within students an unquenchable thirst for knowledge and by continuously stressing the ultimate worth of the good life which can only be achieved among educated men and women. Therefore, the curricula it offers must, and do, lend themselves to the continuous evaluation of the basic skills in reading, writing, speaking, listening, and serious reflection. Consequently, the College demands that students take part in the conversations of the past by actively engaging themselves in meaningful discussions of the history of ideas, that they are cognizant of the forces which suggested change, and that they develop the philosophy of life that has its roots in the logical deductions of their own observations and supported by a sound rationale.

The College endeavors to make its students free thinkers. It is not interested that its students must echo the thoughts of professors, but that they should be capable of discerning between what is false and what is true, because the significant and relevant facts compel them to conclude what the facts of life conclude. In formal and informal settings, the College makes available to students notable scholars who exchange ideas with them concerning the major human issues of the past and of their time. And out of these exchanges, students develop the habit of critical thinking, analyzing and synthesizing ideas, and drawing valid conclusions.

Based upon a two-year General Education Program which emphasizes good citizenship, moral responsibility, well-developed sense of values, emotional stability, adequate knowledge of the past and contemporary life, the College offers Baccalaureate degrees in eight fields—Biology, Business Education, Elementary Education, English, Health and Physical Education, History and Political Science, Mathematics, and Sociology. It offers minors in the following fields—Art Education, Music Education, French and Spanish, and Chemistry and Physics.

GENERAL INFORMATION

Historical Facts on Fayetteville State College

The State law that created this college was Senate Bill No. 472 introduced in the Legislature on February 1, 1877, and ratified on March 8, 1877. Thus, the actual date of the founding of the college was March 8, 1877. The bill was introduced in the Senate by Mr. Thomas A. Nicholson from Iredell County and was known as the "Act to establish normal schools." Thus, Mr. Nicholson is in a sense founder of the college.

The law did not designate Fayetteville as the place for the school and many cities sought this new "State Colored Normal School." The appropriation was only $2,000, so the State officials tried to find a school already in operation which they could take over. Upon investigating the Howard School here in Fayetteville, which had been in existence for ten years, they decided it had most to offer and it was selected.

The State Colored Normal School was maintained in Fayetteville in rented buildings for the first thirty years of its existence. In all those thirty years the annual appropriation remained at approximately $2,000.

The college has been known by the following names:

Established in 1877 as the State Colored Normal School

In 1916 the name changed to State Colored Normal and Industrial School

In 1921 it became known as the State Normal School for the Negro Race

Beginning in 1926 it was simply called State Normal School

In 1939 it became Fayetteville State Teachers College

In 1963 the name was again changed to Fayetteville State College

The last high school class was graduated in 1929 and the first four year college class was graduated in 1939.

The presidents and the dates they served are as follows:

Robert L. Harris 1877-1880

Charles W. Chesnutt 1880-1883

George Williams 1888-1895

Robert E. Fairley 1898-1899

E. E. Smith 1883-1888, 1895-1898, 1899-1933

J. W. Seabrook 1933-1956

Rudolph Jones 1956-

Plant and Equipment

On 92 acres of campus, seventeen brick buildings are erected for the convenience of students and faculty. They are designed to accommodate the educational, social, recreational, and spiritual needs of students, teachers, and friends of the College. The center of the College is the classroom and four buildings are designed especially for the purpose of instruction. Six dormitories house on-campus students: Bickett, Harris, Joyner, and Smith Halls are for young women, and Hood and Williams Halls are for young men. The Library is the repository of 46,000 volumes which adequately meet the needs of the campus population. Not only is the gymnasium the scene of athletic engagements, it provides classrooms for the College, mostly in the area of Physical Education and Health. The Fine Arts Building is confined entirely to instruction in the performing arts. In the Science Building are housed an elaborately furnished speech clinic and a modern foreign language laboratory. A completely outfitted infirmary with 20 beds is available to students for emergency treatments and convalescing periods. Seabrook Auditorium is the cultural center of the College, as well as the center of religious activities. Sunday vesper services are conducted in the auditorium, as well as the professional plays and musical concerts. In addition to the gymnasium, four newly constructed tennis courts, an A.A.U. regulation track, a football field, and a baseball diamond, provide for physical education activities, also.

The Laboratory School

The Newbold Training School, named in honor of the late Dr. N. C. Newbold, formerly State Director of Negro Education, is the campus laboratory school.

Students who major in Elementary Education are given an opportunity to observe teaching conditions at the Newbold School which include classroom management, curriculum planning, study of individual children and other areas of responsibility that will confront prospective teachers in the field.

Student teachers are instructed in the appropriate methods in observation and participation and they are provided experiences which permit them to teach small groups of children before assuming full-responsibility of an entire class.

Student teachers are, also, assigned to other schools in the City of Fayetteville, Cumberland County, and schools which are in adjacent counties.

The program of student teaching at Fayetteville State College is organized to develop efficient teachers for the schools of North Carolina who will have desirable personal characteristics, efficient teaching skills, and professional enthusiasm.

ADMISSIONS — REGISTRATION — FEES

All applicants for admission to Fayetteville State College must submit a formal application with required official transcripts and other materials to the Director of Admissions. Students may not register until they have been issued an admission statement by the Director of Admissions.

Applicants must have their secondary schools provide the College with a transcript of high school records, covering the entire period of their high school careers, including the subjects taken and the grades received. They must provide the College with their scores on the Scholastic Aptitude Test. It is recommended that the Scholastic Aptitude Test be taken early in the senior year.

Graduates from accredited high schools are admitted to Fayetteville State College upon presentation of certificates of credit that present a minimum of at least fifteen specific subject matter units of secondary work. The subject matter units should be distributed in the following manner:

English	3	Science	2
Mathematics	1	Health and Physical Education	1
Social Studies	2	Electives	6

No applicant will be accepted for admission to the freshman class at Fayetteville State College who has not presented an official transcript of his record and who has not presented his score on the Scholastic Aptitude Test.

Applicants who graduated from high schools not accredited may be admitted by examination.

Placement in the freshman class is determined largely by the scores applicants make on a battery of tests given during the orientation period.

ADVANCED STANDING

Students transferring from other colleges and universities must submit in advance to the Registrar a complete transcript of all credits earned in order that they might be evaluated and the student informed of requirements to be met at Fayetteville State College. In addition to the transcript of his record, the student must present an official recommendation to indicate that he left the college previously attended in good standing. Application for admission to advanced standing should be made to the Director of Admissions.

If upon evaluation of the transcript the student is found to have any academic deficiency incurred at the college previously attended, he will be admitted as a special student and permitted to take no more than 12 semester hours during his first semester in residence. In order to gain regular standing the student must maintain a "C" average and present evidence of having taken the Scholastic Aptitude Test. Courses in the major field with the grade "D" or below must be repeated. Upon successful completion of one semester he would be permitted to register as a regular student. If regular standing is not attained, the student will be asked to withdraw.

ADMISSION AS A SPECIAL STUDENT

Persons not interested in working for a degree or who do not meet all entrance requirements may be admitted as special students. They may select any course for which they have met prerequisite requirements not exceeding 12 semester hours, which is the load limit for a special student in any given semester. Such students cannot be accepted as candidates for degrees until all entrance requirements are satisfied.

Graduates of other four-year colleges who seek to meet requirements for North Carolina State Certificates may take a full load.

A student may also be admitted as a special student if he has any physical handicap or a job which makes it advisable for him to assume a schedule lighter than the normal. Such a student may continue as a special student until such time as it is possible for him to transfer to regular status if he is passing in all his work.

The College reserves the right to limit the number of special students.

ADMISSION AS A FORMER STUDENT

Students who have been out of school for one semester or more must re-apply for admission. If the student left in good standing, he is admitted again as a regular student.

Former students returning to the college will follow the catalogue in effect at the time they first entered provided they have not been away more than three (3) consecutive school years.

RETENTION

The College seeks to foster high scholastic performance among its students. A creditable scholastic average is expected of all persons entering a profession. Therefore, any student who does not maintain a point-hour ratio of 1.0 will be placed on academic probation for the succeeding semester. A student on academic probation will have his class load reduced to 12 hours. In the event that he does not maintain a "C" average, he will be dropped from the Institution. Such a student must re-apply for admission. If admitted the student will be permitted to take no more than 12 semester hours and must maintain a "C" average.

The College reserves the right to deny admittance or to request the withdrawal of any student who withheld requested information, or whose general attitude, moral or social behavior is considered unsatisfactory by the administration, even though no specific charge is made against the individual concerned.

Registration

Fayetteville State College has three registration periods each year. The academic year is divided into two semesters of eighteen weeks each. A Summer Session is conducted for a period of nine weeks. Persons desiring to enter the College may do so at any one of these periods.

TIME OF REGISTRATION. All students must register in person at the beginning of each semester or the Summer Session. An important phase of registration at the College is the physical examination which is required of all students. An advisor is assigned each student to assist him with the selection of courses with the approval of the Dean of the College. The student, however, is responsible for taking courses in proper sequence.

LATE REGISTRATION. A student who seeks admission to the College after the regular registration period each semester or Summer Session, and who is permitted to register, must pay a late registration fee of $5.00.

CHANGE OF REGISTRATION. All changes of registration must be made in the Office of the Dean of the College. Changes in registration may not be made after the first week of classes, unless changes are requested by the Advisor and approved by the Dean of the College. Any student dropping a course without approval of the Dean will receive an "E" in the course.

Normal Load

A normal load at Fayetteville State College consists of from fifteen to nineteen semester hours. All students are expected to register for a normal load. Students who have demonstrated high academic ability and who are registered on the "Dean's List" may register for as many as twenty-one hours. Delinquent students may register for no more than twelve hours during the semester they are delinquent.

Marking System

Each student is assigned a grade at the end of each semester which indicates the quality of work done in each class. An interpretation of the grading symbols employed at Fayetteville State College is listed below:

A—Excellent Scholarship
B—Good Scholarship, above average
C—Fair Scholarship, average quality
D—Poor Scholarship, (not passing in courses in major area)
E—Failure. (Course must be repeated)
I—Incomplete. A mark of "I" assigned a student's work indicates that there is a segment of work that must be submitted before an accurate appraisal of the work can be given. The "I" grade changes to a passing grade if work is satisfactorily submitted. If the "I" is not removed during the semester immediately following the semester it was obtained, it is automatically changed, by the Registrar, to an "E." If the student is withdrawn from school the semester following the semester in which the "I" was made and the grade is not removed, it automatically changes to an "E" one year from the date received.
X—Absent from examination. A mark of "X" indicates that a student was absent from examination for a legitimate reason. Regulations governing an "I" also govern an "X."

Withdrawals

Conditions and circumstances beyond the control of students often necessitate their withdrawal from courses and from the College. Students who withdraw from courses must have the approval of the instructor and the Dean of the College. Students who withdraw from courses without permission are assigned failing grades in the courses.

Whenever students must withdraw from Fayetteville State College, they must complete appropriate forms in the Personnel Office. Copies of these forms are submitted to the President, Dean, Registrar, Business Manager, and Librarian.

Credit

The unit of credit is the semester hour. For each lecture hour per week, one credit hour is given. Two laboratory hours are equated with one lecture hour. To receive credit for a course a student must be officially registered.

Quality Points

To determine scholarship performance of students and to award honors, the College uses the following system in determining point values of grades assigned:

MARK	QUALITY POINTS PER CREDIT HOUR
A	3
B	2
C	1
D	0
E	−1

Class Absences

Students are expected to attend all classes, advisory sessions, assemblies, vespers, and chapel. Absences are counted from the day on which instruction begins. If a student registers for a course after instruction has begun, he has incurred as many absences as the class has met prior to his entrance.

A student may be absent from class, without penalty, as many times per semester as the class meets per week. Excessive absences will result in a deduction of quality points if no excuse is granted. One quality point will be taken from the total quality points of a student for each excessive, unexcused absence.

If a student incurs absences while representing the College in extracurricular activities, the absences will be excused. If a student is incapacitated and incurs absences beyond his excusable limit, and his illness is substantiated by relevant officials in the infirmary, the absences will be excused. Regular visits to the infirmary will not be excused. If a student incurs an excessive number of absences for emergencies other than illness, confirmed by the Dean of Students, the absences will be excused by the Dean of the College.

Quality points will not be deducted in case of over-cuts for juniors and seniors who have a cumulative average of 2.0 or above at the time the absences are incurred.

Classification

To be classified at the College, a student must have accumulated a sufficient number of hours to meet the requirement of the class indicated below:

Freshman	0-30 semester hours—	0-30 Quality Points
Sophomore	31-60 semester hours—	31-60 Quality Points
Junior	61-90 semester hours—	61-90 Quality Points
Senior	91- semester hours—	91- Quality Points

Scholastic Probation

Whenever the quality points fall below the number of credit hours taken, a student is placed on scholastic probation. Whenever the scholastic average of a student falls below the averages listed below, according to classifications, he will be asked to withdraw from the College.

Freshmen	.50
Sophomores	.75
Juniors	.80
Seniors	.90

Dean's List

To qualify for the "Dean's List," a student must be in good standing with the College, must earn no "D's," must carry a minimum of 12 semester hours, and must earn a grade point average of 2.0 or better. Students who qualify for the "Dean's List" may take extra courses upon the approval of the Dean of the College.

Examinations

A measure of the student's progress in a given course is indicated by his performance on a final examination, given at the termination of each semester. All students are expected to take final examinations unless they are exempted by their professors. Students who fail to take final examinations are given a semester grade of "X" which must be removed according to College regulations.

Freshman students must take the following examinations before they are classified:

1. Psychological Test
2. English Proficiency Test
3. Mathematics Proficiency Test
4. Reading Test
5. Social Science Proficiency Test

At the end of the sophomore year, all students must take a comprehensive examination covering the broad areas of knowledge covered in the General Program. Successful completion of the comprehensive examination is required before a student is permitted to begin a major program of study.

NUMBERING OF COURSES

At Fayetteville State College all courses are assigned a number. The first identification of a course is the department in which it is offered. The first number indicates the year or level of the course; the second number indicates the sequence of the courses offered in a department; and the third number indicates the semester in which the course is offered. If a course is offered both semesters, the last digit is indicated by a zero. Courses are numbered in this manner: Educ. 111. This numbering indicates that the course is a freshman course, the first course offered in the Department of Education, and that the course is offered in the first semester.

Fees

Fees are payable in advance at the beginning of each session on a monthly billing basis. Fees cover all fixed charges, including access to facilities of the College, use of the library, laboratories, and gymnasium; admission to athletic contests, lyceum attractions, and medical fees. The following Table gives the fees for the academic year, 1964-65:

Determination of State Residence for Tuition

If the student's record upon original admission shows that he graduated from a high school located in North Carolina and the student claims North Carolina residency, such student will be presumed to be a bona fide resident of North Carolina unless facts suggesting the contrary appear at that time or later during the student's attendance. If the record shows that a student attended a high school outside North Carolina the student will be presumed to be an out-of-state student unless he satisfactorily supports a claim of North Carolina residency.

To establish proof of residency in the State of North Carolina, a student may present written evidence of the following:

1. Registration and voting in North Carolina
2. Has been assessed and has paid State taxes
3. Employed in North Carolina
4. Has motor vehicle registration for North Carolina
5. Establishment of residence of parent or guardian in North Carolina

A dependent of a soldier stationed in this State who is not a bona fide resident, but is here by reason of military orders, would have to pay out-of-state tuition.

Refunds

Refunds of tuition will be made on the basis of a withdrawal form filled out by the student and approved by the administration. All forms must show the date of withdrawal.

Refunds will be as follows:

Within two weeks after beginning of Semester	80%
Within three weeks after beginning of Semester	60%
Within four weeks after beginning of Semester	40%
Within five weeks after beginning of Semester	20%

After the end of the fifth week there will be no refund of tuition. All unused board will be refunded. There will be no refund for fees other than tuition and board for withdrawal after registration has been completed.

SCHOLARSHIPS, LOANS, HONORS AND AWARDS

Fayetteville State College makes available to students who can qualify for financial aid, scholarships, loans, prizes, and student employment, to assist them in obtaining a college education.

SCHOLARSHIPS

Cash Scholarships are awarded to superior students on the basis of high rank in a graduating class, a high score on the Scholastic Aptitude Test, and the recommendation of the high school principal or guidance counselor. The amount varies from $50 to $100. If the student recipient maintains a superior average, the cash scholarship will be continued for four years.

Work-Aid is provided on the basis of need and varies from approximately $100 to $300 per year.

LOANS

National Defense Student Loan guarantees up to $300 per year, if funds are available. Students who teach after graduating are required to repay only one-half of the loan and are given ten years to do so.

The loan is available to students who matriculate in four-year programs leading to a Baccalaureate degree.

College Foundation, Incorporated (North Carolina Bankers Association) provides, for any North Carolina student who meets academic standards and can give proof of need, a maximum amount of $500 per year (this amount can change at the will of the College Foundation). The loan is repayable in monthly payments within 90 days after completing the prescribed course of study or leaving the institution as a full-time student.

STUDENT LIFE AND ACTIVITIES

Fayetteville State College endeavors to make the educational careers of students meaningful and rewarding. It encourages students to engage in activities that will afford them opportunities in leadership roles. While the primary aim of the College is to create an acceptable academic climate that will allow for the maximum growth of its students, it is not unmindful of its responsibility in providing relevant experiences that will develop the personal, social, and physical capacities of its students.

GUIDANCE SERVICES

To meet the varying needs of students, the College provides counseling and guidance services which are coordinated through the offices of the Dean of Students and Dean of Women. Individual and group guidance are conducted by faculty advisors, dormitory directors and student counselors. In addition, the Personnel and Guidance Committee seeks to promote wholesome and creative group living. Likewise, the Committee serves as a unit to which various campus problems may be referred for study.

General college advisory sessions are held once each month. However, the student may arrange for conferences with advisors whenever the need arises.

Freshman Orientation

Freshmen and new students are required to participate in an Orientation period each school year. The purpose of the Orientation program is fourfold: (1) It aids the supervisory, administrative, and teaching personnel of the College to become acquainted with the new members of the student group on a non-academic basis. (2) It provides an opportunity for giving Psychological and Achievement Tests. (3) It provides the student an opportunity to observe and adjust to his environment, his teachers, the offerings and opportunities of the College. (4) It seeks to develop a wholesome relationship between upperclassmen and new students.

Religious Activities

The religious activities of the College are non-sectarian.

The two student organizations—the Y.M.C.A. and the Y.W.C.A.—are factors in the development of Christian character and leadership. Through their varied programs the young men and women are aided in developing well-rounded personalities as a preparation for creative living.

Sunday School Services are conducted by the students. They are designed to create an active interest in religious activities and to develop honest, reliable young men and women.

Vesper Services are held periodically throughout the year.

Assemblies and Lyceum Attractions

Assembly Programs held regularly on Wednesday of each week provide a wide variety of cultural attractions.

Vocalists, instrumental artists, dramatic and dance groups and musical organizations are presented as lyceum attractions.

Social Activities

Under the supervision of the Social Committee, social gatherings are arranged from time to time at which students may mingle for a few hours of wholesome enjoyment. Organizations may also sponsor teas and other gatherings of informal, semi-formal or formal nature.

All social gatherings whether sponsored by the College or by some particular organization are approved by the Social Committee and are chaperoned by members of the faculty.

From time to time young women of the College, who have permission from their parents, may attend social affairs off-campus.

Athletic Activities

Recreation

Recreation is an integral part of the education program in the College. Through the Physical Education Department, a program of recreation and intramural sports is provided. Each dormitory is provided with a recreation room where students and faculty enjoy wholesome recreational activities.

Health Services

Through an integrated program of health instruction, health service, and a healthful environment, the College seeks to develop sound individual and group health habits.

Health services are available to the college family through the health service staff; treatment is provided for minor illnesses and minor injuries. A college infirmary is maintained for this purpose. A cooperative relationship exists between the College and hospitals in the community for the treatment of major illnesses and injuries. Consultative and guidance services are provided for the students in the office of the college nurse.

A physical examination conducted under the supervision of the College physician and the college nurse is required of each student at the beginning of the school year. A physician or dentist may be consulted as needs arise. (See section on fees for infirmary fees.)

The Library

The Chesnutt library seeks to meet the needs of students and faculty for books, periodicals and other resources in general education and cultural reading.

A collection of juvenile literature is maintained to provide for the need of courses in Children's Literature and for supplementary instructional references on the elementary school level.

Alumni Association

The Alumni Association has a program designed to establish closer relations among its various branches and the General Association. The executive committee aims to perfect a strong general organization made up of active local units cooperating to achieve ends of benefit to the college and its graduates. Among alumni projects are campaigns for scholarships and loans, sponsoring individual students, publishing newsletters and assisting with recruitment of students.

COMMENCEMENT, COLLEGE HONORS, DIPLOMA AND CERTIFICATE, PLACEMENT

Commencement Exercises are held at the close of each school year, at which time degrees and diplomas are officially awarded to all graduates who have completed requirements. Graduates who complete requirements after the regular Commencement Exercises will be awarded degrees and certificates at the next regular Commencement.

GRADUATION WITH HONORS

The degree of Bachelor of Science is awarded in three honor grades, namely, Cum Laude, Magna Cum Laude, and Summa Cum Laude.

Cum Laude shall be conferred on the basis of a minimum total average of 2.20 quality points with no grade below "C" in any course, and by vote of the faculty.

Magna Cum Laude shall be conferred on the basis of a minimum total average of 2.5 quality points with no grade below "C" in any course, and by vote of the faculty.

Summa Cum Laude shall be conferred on the basis of a minimum total average of 2.8 quality points with no grade below "C" in any course, and by vote of the faculty. The student must have spent three years in residence at Fayetteville.

To qualify for honors in either of the three grades, the student must have completed a minimum of sixty semester hours of credit of high quality at the College.

DIPLOMA AND CERTIFICATE

Upon graduation from the four-year curriculum the student will receive the degree of Bachelor of Science. In addition, the State Department of Public Instruction will issue to the graduate who has met the requirements a Teaching Certificate in accordance with the particular curriculum completed.

A certificate for teaching in the schools of North Carolina will be issued only to those applicants who are eighteen years of age or over.

Students finishing a Technical Vocational program will be given a diploma.

PLACEMENT OF GRADUATES

The placement of graduates is done by the Director of the Placement Bureau. Scholastic and personnel records of graduates are used as guides in recommending candidates for positions. A list of candidates together with a statement of their traits and ambitions is mailed to prospective employers annually.

School officials who employ graduates are requested to apprise the Administration of the College concerning the performance of graduates to assist the College in keeping its professional program dynamic and progressive.

BASIC PROGRAMS OF GENERAL EDUCATION, COURSE DESCRIPTIONS

GENERAL EDUCATION

Fayetteville State College provides for the General Education of all students by offering a common core of courses which are required during the Freshman and Sophomore years. The College offers courses that meet the General Education requirements which are determined by the North Carolina State Department of Public Instruction.

The College offers two General Education Programs. One is designed to meet the needs of Elementary Education and Physical Education and Health majors, and the other is structured to meet the needs of majors in Biology, Business Education, English, History and Political Science, Mathematics, and Sociology. The programs differ in the following respects: (1) Elementary Education and Physical Education and Health majors are not required to take a Modern Foreign Language; and (2) Elementary Education and Physical Education and Health majors are required to take General Psychology and Philosophy, while majors in the other Academic Areas are not.

The General Education Program for Elementary Education and Physical Education and Health majors consists of fifty-one semester hours. The programs for the other Academic Areas consist of fifty-one semester hours.

A description of the General Education Programs is listed below:

These courses are designed to develop the basic communicative skills: speaking, aural comprehension, writing and reading. Covers fundamental grammar. Regular laboratory practice.

French 211-212 Intermediate French
3 Hours Credit Each Semester

Conversation, compositions and discussions based upon intermediate cultural readings. Grammar review and laboratory practice. Prerequisite: French 111-112 or placement examination.

Spanish 111-112 Elementary Spanish
3 Hours Credit Each Semester

The courses are designed to develop aural skills, to provide study of the basic grammatical structure of the language, and to develop the ability to read and write simple Spanish. Exercises in the language laboratory will be included.

Spanish 211-212 Intermediate Spanish
3 Hours Credit Each Semester

These courses will continue the development of the basic skills in the use of the language, with emphasis on greater oral fluency and a broader reading comprehension. Equipment in the language laboratory will be utilized in working toward the objectives.

HISTORY

Hist. 111-112 World History 3 Hours Credit Each Semester

A survey of the history of man—his governmental, economic, social, religious, intellectual, and esthetic activities—from the earliest times to 1715 in Europe, Asia, Africa, and the Americas. The second phase of the course is an historical survey of man's development from 1715 to the present. Attention will be given to rationalism, democracy, nationalism, romanticism, industrialism, imperialism, and total war and revolution.

MATHEMATICS

Math. 111-112 College Mathematics 3 Hours Credit Each Semester

An effort is made in the course to correlate closely the essentials of algebra, trigonometry, analytic geometry, and the elementary calculus. The work of the course is organized around three fundamental concepts: (a) the concept of function; (b) the concept of equation; (c) the concept of a locus.

PHILOSOPHY

Phil. 211 Ethics or Logic 2 Credit Hours Each Semester

The course in Ethics is designed to acquaint students with the principles of selecting appropriate moral choices. Values are discussed. The course in Logic is designed to acquaint students with the principles of reasoning: inductive, deductive, syllogistical, and eclectic. Ethics will be offered one year and Logic one year.

PSYCHOLOGY

Psy. 111 General Psychology 3 Credit Hours Each Semester

The interrelationships of the group and the individual provides the frame of reference for this course. It is concerned with the individual, the group, and the culture, as they determine the development of human nature.

A study of present-day economic systems; function of middlemen and markets; demand, supply, and prices; money, credit, and banking.

Soc. 212 Principles of Sociology 3 Credit Hours
A study of the principles and laws of sociology, the literature in which they are discussed and the key concepts about which they center.

TEACHER EDUCATION PROGRAMS

Traditionally, Fayetteville State College is a Teacher Education Institution. Most of its graduates have entered into the teaching fields since its founding. Until 1962, students enrolled at the College could pursue only one major—Elementary Education. Beginning Juniors in 1962 could take courses of studies that led to the Baccalaureate degree in Teaching Fields on the Secondary Level, as well as non-teaching fieldls.

A student may enroll in courses which lead to Baccalaureate degrees in the following fields: Biology, Business Education, Elementary Education, English, Health and Physical Education, History and Political Science, Mathematics, and Sociology. He may pursue a teaching or non-teaching degree in all areas except Elementary Education.

ADMISSION TO TEACHER EDUCATION

Students who desire to major in a Teacher Education Program must make application to the appropriate Departmental Chairman. Majors in Elementary Education should apply for admission to the Chairman of the Department of Education. Secondary majors should apply for admission to the Departmental Chairman in whose Area the major is contemplated. Departmental Chairmen of Secondary Areas and the Chairman of the Department of Education will arrange the professional courses for students in Secondary Fields.

All applicants for admission to Teacher Education Programs must have a grade point average of at least 1.50. The application should be submitted nine weeks prior to the Junior Program, either nine weeks before the end of the second semester, or three weeks prior to the end of Summer School. Students in the freshman class of 1964-65, and all subsequent classes, will be governed by the 1.50 grade-point average when they make application for admission to a teacher education program.

ADMISSION TO STUDENT TEACHING

An applicant for Student Teaching must complete all appropriate Methods Courses before being considered. He must have an over-all average of 1.5.

GENERAL DEGREE REQUIREMENTS

To qualify for a degree at Fayetteville State College, a candidate must have completed 120 semester hours and 120 quality points. He must have an average of 1.0 in his major field of concentration and an over-all average of 1.0. No candidate will be considered for a degree who has not spent one year of residence at the College and who has not taken at least 24-semester hours of work.

An applicant must attend college for a minimum of eight semesters unless he has a cumulative average of 2.0 ("B") or above.

MAJOR AND CONCENTRATION FIELDS, AREA OBJECTIVES, COURSE DESCRIPTIONS, CURRICULAR PROGRAMS

To pursue a major or concentration field in either Elementary or Secondary Education, the student should indicate his intent to the Departmental Chairman of the area in which he contemplates the major or concentration. He should inform the Chairman of his interests and desires and he should be interviewed by the Chairman of the division and other professors in the area of his interests.

Before a student is permitted to begin a major program, he must complete all course work in the General Education Program, must successfully complete the comprehensive examinations, and must maintain a minimum scholastic average of 1.0 (C). These regulations become operative with the entering freshman class of 1964-1965.

REQUIREMENTS FOR MAJORS

A minimum of thirty semester hours is required for a major in any field of specialization at Fayetteville State College. However, approximately forty-eight per cent of the undergraduate program should be spent in the major area and cognate fields. Generally, forty-eight semester hours meet the requirements of both the College and the North Carolina State Department of Public Instruction.

REQUIREMENTS FOR CONCENTRATION FIELDS

A minimum of twenty-four semester hours is required by the North Carolina State Department of Public Instruction for certification in most fields. In the areas of Art and Music, thirty-six and forty-eight hours, respectively, are required for certification. Specifically, concentration fields should be cognate areas which are part of the broad area of a discipline. While concentrations in certain areas will not certify students under the present programs, they are worthy of consideration in terms of future employment.

A student may take a concentration in the Fine Arts, Art or Music; Modern Foreign Languages, French or Spanish; and Sciences, Chemistry or Physics.

Objectives of the Department of Biology

The objectives of the Department of Biology are as follows:

1. To secure a knowledge of biological services.
2. To assist in the mastery of tools for scientific study.
3. To promote clean, incisive thought and definition.
4. To control experimentation.
5. To enter medical school if his interests direct.
6. To pursue graduate study.

The Department of Biology introduces students to the scientific method of inquiry which assists them in arriving at the truth. It offers courses to prepare students to meet the general education requirements of the College and for entrance into graduate, medical, and dental schools.

OBJECTIVES OF DEPARTMENT OF BUSINESS EDUCATION

The program leading to the Bachelor of Science degree in Business Education integrates a broad general education with specialized training for students who plan to enter the teaching profession or who desire to enter business or government service. A program and activities are planned to enable the student to develop the necessary knowledge, professional skills, and understandings required for effective and successful living in our modern society.

At the present time a two-year intensive program is offered in secretarial training. Students are awarded a diploma at the completion of the two years of study.

The Department of Business Education has the following objectives:

1. To develop an understanding of the basic principles of business and commercial life and activities.
2. To develop within the student an appreciation of the importance and functions of business in our modern society and in relationship to our national economy.
3. To prepare students for positions of leadership and responsibility in the areas of teaching, business, government, and industry.
4. To develop knowledges and professional skills required for success in our business society.
5. To prepare students for graduate and advanced study.

OBJECTIVES OF THE DEPARTMENTS OF ELEMENTARY EDUCATION AND PSYCHOLOGY AND SECONDARY EDUCATION

ELEMENTARY EDUCATION AND PSYCHOLOGY

Objectives:

1. To provide a background of professional information that is necessary for elementary school teachers.
2. To develop those teaching skills and competencies that are needed at the elementary school level.
3. To develop an appreciation for elementary school teaching as a profession.

SECONDARY EDUCATION

The general objective for the program in Secondary Education is to prepare teachers for working in the secondary school, including the junior high school.

The program is organized into three principal areas, each of which has its own objectives and appropriate courses. The areas are: The Pupil, The School, and Teaching and Practicum.

The primary purpose of the instruction in the area of The Pupil is to develop an understanding of the essential nature of the secondary school pupil, including the way he grows and develops, his principal characteristics at each level of development; the way he learns; and the ways in which he differs from other pupils.

The primary purpose of the work in the area of The School is to provide the prospective secondary school teacher with an understanding of the secondary school as an educational and social institution, including the basic principles that underlie the entire structure of secondary education.

The primary purposes of the instruction in the Teaching and Practicum area are to provide opportunities for carrying out systematic and directed observations in actual classroom situations; to develop the ability to use the materials and procedures, both general and special, that are appropriate to each teaching field; and to initiate the student into active class control under supervision.

3. To develop an understanding and appreciation of the origins and tenets of religious, social, political, geographical, and economic institutions of man.
4. To develop the student's ability to use history and politics in relation to the other social and natural sciences as a guide for action in a democratic society.
5. To develop character and the necessary academic competencies for the social studies teacher, future lawyers, government personnel, ministers, professional politicians, future journalists, and responsible citizens.

Requirements:

1. No grade in history or political science below "C" will be accepted as part of the major or minor requirements.
2. Those students who wish to minor in history must take a minimum of twenty-one semester hours credit in history, including History 111, 112, 211, 212, 311, and 312.

The Department has both the teaching and non-teaching programs.

Course Descriptions for History and Political Science

Hist. 111-112 World History — 3 credit hours each semester

A survey of the history of man—his governmental, economic, social, religious, intellectual, and esthetic activities—from the earliest times to 1715 in Europe, Asia, Africa, and the Americas. The second phase of this study deals with a historical survey of man's development from 1715 to the present. Special attention will be devoted to rationalism, democracy, nationalism, romanticism, industrialism, imperialism, and total war and revolution.

Hist. 211 United States History to 1865 — 3 credit hours

A basic course which deals with the political, social, religious, economic, intellectual, and esthetic forces affecting the development of the United States from its background in Europe through the American Civil War.

Hist. 212 United States History Since 1865 — 3 credit hours

This course includes the reconstruction period, industrialism and other forces affecting the American tradition from the Civil War to the present. New developments in social and political thoughts are evaluated.

Hist. 222 Ancient History — 3 credit hours

This course examines the origins, developments and contributions of ancient civilizations from preliterate times to the fall of the Roman Empire.

Hist. 311 Modern European History from 1500 to 1815 — 3 credit hours

This course will make an intensive survey of the forces responsible for the making of modern Europe from 1500 to 1815. Among these forces considered are: The Renaissance, Reformation, Commercial, Agricultural and Industrial Revolutions, Constitutional Government in England, Eighteenth Century Thought, Imperialism, the French Revolution and the Congress of Vienna.

Hist. 312 Modern European History Since 1815 — 3 credit hours

A study of the European civilization since the Congress of Vienna. Special attention will be given to the rise and fall of nazism and fascism, the development of communism and capitalism and the Cold War.

Hist. 321-322 Constitutional History — 3 credit hours each semester

Constitutional questions are viewed in respect to their background in history, politics, religion, and economics. Emphasis will be given to trends in constitutional law as related to federalism, the separation and delegation of powers, commerce, taxation, subversion, and civil rights in peace and war. Prerequisites: History 211-212.

Hist. 332 American Diplomatic History — 3 credit hours

A general study of the history of American diplomacy from the Revolution to the present. Chronological analysis will be made of the forces affecting general and regional foreign policies. Prerequisites: History 211-212.

Hist. 342 Survey of Latin America — 3 credit hours

A study of the settlement, colonial institutions and society, causes of the revolutions, and the establishment of the independent nations. A study of the independent nations and their relations with one another, Europe, and the United States.

Hist. 411 The Negro in American History — 3 credit hours

This course deals with the history of the American Negro from his African and European backgrounds through Colonial America to the present. Special attention will be given to the effect of slavery and segregation on the personality and destiny of the Negro.

Hist. 412 Survey of African History — 3 credit hours

A survey course designed to study ancient, colonial, and modern civilizations of Africa. This course will emphasize problems involved in the re-birth of the African civilization south of the Sahara.

Hist. 421 National Biography — 3 credit hours

This course is an intensive study of the lives of selected leaders in American history from colonial times to the present. Both biographical and autobiographical sources will be used. Some of the important individuals studied are Jefferson, Madison, Calhoun, Webster, Lincoln, Roosevelt, etc.

Hist. 422 History of the South — 3 credit hours

A regional history of the Southern states from 1820 to the present. The course begins with the Negro question, and it traces the development of those political and social traits which make the region between the Potomac and the Rio Grande a cultural province conscious of its identity.

Hist. 431 Problems in American History — 3 credit hours

A consideration of selected controversial issues in American history. Students will evaluate critically such issues as the causes and results of the American War for Independence, sectionalism, the American Civil War, the New Deal, etc.

Govt. 210 Principles of American Government — 3 credit hours

An introductory course in American Government reviewing the historical background and purposes of political institutions. Emphasis is on the structure and activities of the American system—federal, state, and local. The major aims of the course are to develop politically well informed, loyal, and civic-minded citizens.

Govt. 311 Comparative Government — 3 credit hours

Comparative analysis will be made of the governments of Great Britain, France, West Germany, Russia, and selected smaller European countries as basic examples of European democratic and non-democratic governments. In each analysis comparison will be made with the United States Government. Special attention will be given to historical backgrounds, political parties, and electoral systems.

Govt. 321 Political Parties and Pressure Groups — 3 credit hours

A study of the history, organization, functions, and methods of American political parties and pressure groups. The relationship between governments and parties and organized interest groups will be emphasized.

Govt. 322 The Legislative Process 3 credit hours

An examination of the machinery and function of lawmaking in the United States; consideration is given to legislative procedure, the nature of law, the relation of the executive, the courts, and the public to the legislative process, and popular lawmaking.

Govt. 331 Principles of Public Administration 3 credit hours

The basic concepts of public administration. Attention will be devoted to the administrative problems of organization, procedure, personnel, financial administration, administrative law, and public relations.

Govt. 411-412 History of Political Theory

3 credit hours each semester

A survey of political theories from ancient Greece through the Middle Ages. The basic approach is historical. The course seeks to relate theories of politics to the environments in which they developed. The history of political thought from the Middle Ages to the present will be discussed. Discussions will be held on liberalism, utilitarianism, socialism, fascism, and communism.

Govt. 421 Elements of International Law 3 credit hours

This course is concerned with the development and interpretation of the general principles of international law in the world community. Treaties, agreements, and selected cases in international law will be studied.

Govt. 422 International Relations 3 credit hours

An introduction into the basic problems of international life arising out of the power competition of states and into the attempts at their solution. Problems of nationalism and internationalism, imperialism, colonialism, and the role of war as well as the instrumentalities of international cooperation and intercourse and the role of international organization will be studied, with particular emphasis on the United States and correlated organizations.

OBJECTIVES OF THE DEPARTMENT OF MATHEMATICS

The objectives of the Department of Mathematics are as follows:

1. To strengthen students in the basic concepts of mathematics for quantitative thinking and expression in our present social order.
2. To aid students to utilize basic skills as they relate to other quantitative and qualitative subjects.
3. To prepare students to teach science and mathematics in the secondary school and to pursue graduate study.
4. To prepare those students whose abilities lead to non-teaching professions with the necessary background.

Descriptions of Courses in Mathematics

Math. 110 Fundamental Concepts of Mathematics

3 credit hours

A course devoted to the structure of the real number system and its sub-systems, basic concepts of Algebra and informal Geometry.

Math. 111-112 College Algebra and Trigonometry
3 credit hours each semester

An effort is made in the course to correlate closely the essentials of algebra, trigonometry, analytic geometry, and the elementary calculus. In addition to the correlation of the material of these subjects, the course seeks to show many applications of mathematics in other fields of endeavor. The work of the course is organized around three fundamental concepts: (a) the concept of function; (b) the concept of an equation; (c) the concept of a locus.

Math. 211 Analysis I — 3 credit hours

Use of coordinates in two dimensions, conic sections, tangents, parametric equations, surfaces, planes, straight lines in space, transformation of coordinates. Recommended as an elective for those students who have taken college algebra or trigonometry in secondary school.

Math. 212 Fundamental Concepts of Modern Geometry
3 credit hours

Properties of triangles and circles, homothetic transformations, the nine-point circle, Simson line, harmonic section, Menelaus' and Ceva's theorems, closely related to the field of Euclidean geometry. Prerequisites: Math. 321-322, or the consent of the instructor.

Math. 311-312 Introduction to Modern Algebra I, II
3 credit hours each semester

Groups rings fields, vector spaces and linear transformations, classification of quadratic forms. Prerequisites: Math. 321-322.

Math. 321-322 Calculus I, II — 3 credit hours each semester

Differential and integral calculus with functions of polynomial form, algebraic transcendental functions, including infinite series, partial differentiation, multiple integration and elementary differential equations. Prerequisite: Math. 211.

Math. 332 Differential Equations — 3 credit hours

Emphasis on the solution of ordinary linear differential equations. Attention to methods of numerical analysis of non-linear equations. Applications to science and engineering stressed. Prerequisites: Math. 321-322.

Math. 342 Theory of Equations — 3 credit hours

Complex numbers, general theory of matrices. Prerequisite: Math. 322.

Math. 410 Probability and Statistics — 4 credit hours

Samples spaces and probability measure. Random variables. The addition and multiplication principles. Simple descriptive statistics. Repeated trials and the binomial distribution as the limiting form of the binomial distribution. The normal reproduction law. Bivariate distributions and least squares. Coefficient of correlation. The use of confidence intervals for statistical inference. 2 Lectures, 2 hours Laboratory. Prerequisites: Math. 321-322.

Math. 410T Introduction to Modern Mathematics
Credits may vary
Examination and evaluation of the more significant contemporary ideas in mathematics. Topics in arithmetic, algebra and geometry are presented in such a way that the student is stimulated by the ideas. This course is designed to meet the needs of an in-service teacher who may need help to work with some of the new programs.

Math. 420 Solid Geometry 3 credit hours
A desirable elective course for students planning to teach in the secondary school who have not taken the course in secondary school. Must have consent of the instructor to take the course.

Math. 430 History of Mathematics 2 credit hours
A survey of the development of mathematics, with biographical references, national achievements, and discussions of mathematics interest.

Math. 440 Reading and Honors in Mathematics Credits may vary
Juniors and Seniors, with the approval of the Mathematics Department, may enroll for special advanced work not offered in courses at the 300 and 400 level. Prerequisites: Math. 342 and written approval of the head of the department.

Math. 450 Statistics 3 credit hours
Measure of central tendency, dispersion, regression equations, correlation, reliability, index numbers, normal probability curve, sampling. 2 Lectures, 2 hours Laboratory. Prerequisites: Math. 111-112, or consent of instructor.

OBJECTIVES OF THE DEPARTMENT OF PHYSICAL EDUCATION AND HEALTH

The Physical Education and Health Department offers a well-rounded program designed to provide opportunities for each student to receive practical health instruction which will lead to healthful living and to develop interest and skill in the various phases of physical education according to his needs and ability.

The program is closely allied with recreation, safety, and athletics, and contributes to many areas of the total college program.

The Department of Physical Education and Health has the following objectives:

1. To provide technical training for those interested in teaching physical education and health in the public schools.
2. To provide opportunities for students to learn to meet the responsibilities they have or will have for certain aspects of physical education.
3. To provide opportunities for participation in wholesome recreational activities.
4. To promote in the individual and in the group physical and emotional health.

Requirements:

During the freshman year all students are required to take physical education. Majors in physical education must satisfy institutional requirements for graduation and also meet the standards of the State for certification. Students transferring from other colleges will have their previous work in this area, if passing, credited toward the requirement. A broad program of intramural sports is provided to meet the needs of both men and women who are not engaged in intercollegiate competition.

Descriptions of Courses in Physical Education and Health

H. Educ. 112 Personal Hygiene — 1 credit hour

The several aspects of personal hygiene emphasizing the organic system—normal and abnormal, and the conditions pertaining thereto together with the rules of personal health which make for effective living.

H. Educ. 122 First Aid and Safety — 2 credit hours

This course is designed to teach the underlying principles and applied techniques of first aid. American Red Cross certificates are given upon satisfactory completion of the course.

H. Educ. 310 Principles, Practices and Procedures in Health Education — 3 credit hours

This course is designed to give study to the fundamental principles upon which health is based. Materials and methods of teaching health to elementary school children are studied along with health texts, pamphlets, and charts appropriate to varying age levels. The student is prepared for student teaching.

H. Educ. 411 Community and School Hygiene — 2 credit hours

A study of the fundamental principles of sanitary sciences and disease prevention and their application to water supply, milk and general food supply, sewage disposal, school sanitation, and the general problems which deal with control of infectious diseases. (Elective for majors)

H. Educ. 412 School Health Education — 3 credit hours

A study of content, methods and materials in preparing the teacher to handle health classes at either the elementary, junior or senior school level.

H. Educ. 421 Principles, Practices, and Procedures in Health Education — 3 hours credit

This course is designed to give study to the fundamental principles upon which health is based. Materials and methods of teaching health to elementary school children are studied along with health texts, pamphlets and charts appropriate to varying age levels. Preparation for student teaching in this field is accomplished.

P. Educ. 111 Physical Education — 1 hour credit

This course is designed to teach games of all types. Individual contests, mass and small group contests, combative relay and loosely grouped team contests with both indoor and outdoor application are presented.

P. Educ. 121 Introduction to Physical Education — 1 hour credit

Orientation of the student in the field of health and physical education. The course is designed to give the student fundamental knowledge and skills in a wide variety of activities. (Majors only)

P. Educ. 211-212 Advanced Games and Sports
1 credit hour each semester
Concerned with graded development of the fundamental skills involved in gymnastics, athletic games, individual and dual sports, and rhythmics. The course is required of all sophomores.

P. Educ. 221 Fundamentals and Techniques of Dance
2 credit hours
This course includes folk, square, tap, and modern dances. Materials included which serve as a fundamental of dance movement in relation to music; mixers, rounds and creative compositions; and dances that are peculiar to foreign countries.

P. Educ. 222 Life Saving and Water Safety 1 credit hour
Concerned with advanced swimming and techniques, methods and techniques of teaching swimming and life saving, and the development of skills to the attainment of the American Red Cross Instructor's Certificate.

P. Educ. 232 Group Games 3 credit hours
Methods of playing and teaching certain games of low organization. The learning of folk and gymnastic dances and singing games suitable for the playground, gymnasium, community center, and recreation in general.

P. Educ. 311 History and Principles of Physical Education
3 credit hours
This course is concerned with the understanding and interpretation of the principles of the modern physical education program. Contribution of historical programs related to the development of the present-day program are studied and evaluated.

P. Educ. 312 Individual Sports 2 credit hours
Individual sports (archery, badminton, bowling, golf, table tennis and tennis) is offered to provide an opportunity for physical education majors to develop a broad background in these activities and the necessary competencies for teaching these activities.

P. Educ. 321-322 Team Sports 2 credit hours each semester
This course is designed to cover the basic knowledge, proper techniques and the practice of fundamental skills of team sports such as touch football, soccer, field hockey, volleyball, basketball, and baseball.

P. Educ. 331 Kinesiology 2 credit hours
This is a general introductory course dealing with the application of the science of kinesiology as it is made in analysis of movements and fundamentals of successful performance.

P. Educ. 332 Individual and Adapted Physical Education
2 credit hours
This course prepares teachers of physical education for the training of children with physical disabilities. Deals with the modification of physical education activities to meet the needs of individuals unable to participate in regular activities because of physical handicaps. Considers methods, materials and various forms of adapted physical education activities.

P. Educ. 352 Tumbling, Stunts, and Apparatus 2 credit hours
This course is designed for the development of performance ability in the execution of apparatus and tumbling exercise and special attention is given to methods of teaching various gymnastic activities.

P. Educ. 362 Coaching and Officiating 2 credit hours
The organization and administration of intramural activities and coaching and officiating seasonal major and minor sports.

P. Educ. 411 Organization and Administration of Health and Physical Education 3 credit hours

OBJECTIVES OF THE CONCENTRATION IN FINE ARTS

MUSIC — ART

The objectives of the Area of Fine Arts are threefold. Realizing that a knowledge of the Fine Arts is a vital part of education, and our way of life, the area attempts (1) to develop an intelligent appreciation of and a desire for the arts that will be of lasting value in the life of every student; (2) to meet the needs of students majoring in Elementary and Secondary Education; and (3) to provide instruction in certain branches of the arts, so that students from other areas of the college, and unclassified students, may pursue courses toward a concentration, or for elective credit.

Requirements for Art Concentration

Students taking a concentration in Art are expected to demonstrate an interest in the program as offered by the College and show a definite aptitude for the visual arts. They will be requested by the Art Area to submit samples of previous art work. The art work may be in any medium.

All students who take a concentration in Art must select at least one medium for advance studio courses. They will be required to complete a special project in specialized media in the Advanced studio courses.

Students must exhibit resourcefulness and the ability to work with an increasing degree of independence. They must exhibit work in at least two public art exhibitions.

One hour of teaching will be required in conjunction with the methods course.

Requirements for Music Concentration

Each student taking a concentration in Music is required to select one performing medium. This may be piano, voice, woodwind or brass instrument. This medium should be studied in private instruction throughout the student's four years in college, or until he has reached the standard of proficiency required for graduation, which is a high quality of solo or ensemble performance.

A student with a concentration in Music is required before graduation to demonstrate his ability to play on the piano third grade music, community songs, and simple accompaniments in a musical manner, transpose easy pieces and harmonize easy melodies at the keyboard.

Each student is required before graduation to demonstrate his ability to sing accurately as to pitch and rhythm in an acceptable voice.

All students in applied music are required to appear in student recitals during the school year.

All students who take a concentration in Music will be given placement examinations in piano, voice or instrument, and talent tests on entering college. Students who do not meet the requirements in their chief performing instrument will be required to take preparatory work without credit.

Music work taken under private teachers or from unaccredited schools may be validated for credit by the student's passing proficiency examinations. No music student is permitted to make public performances without the consent of his instructor.

Applied music students are expected to practice regularly the assigned number of hours per week for each lesson taken. Students are expected to practice six hours per week for each private half-hour lesson taken, and twelve hours per week for each private one hour lesson per week.

Extended absences of students should be reported to the Music Office. Students absent from Applied Music lessons for the equivalent of three weeks of lessons will find it difficult to arrange for making up such private instruction. Such students will have the privilege to make up practice hours missed. Whenever a student has been absent for three lessons or more in any course, he automatically forfeits credit in the course, unless proper arrangements are made with the Instructor and the Dean of the College.

No student registered in the Music Department is allowed to study music with a teacher not on the staff of the Music Department, nor is he allowed to belong to a musical organization on or off campus without the permission of the Chairman of the Department of Music and the Dean of the College.

Courses in Applied Music are open to all college students.

All students are required to belong to the musical organization for which they are qualified throughout their four years of college.

OBJECTIVES OF THE CONCENTRATION IN MODERN FOREIGN LANGUAGES

FRENCH — SPANISH

The program places emphasis upon the development of conversational fluency of the language. Utilization of an electronic language laboratory greatly facilitates the attainment of the oral-aural skills. Specific objectives:

The program has as its aims the following:

1. To equip students with the basic linguistic skills of speaking, reading, comprehending, and writing the language with ease.
2. To provide knowledge of the structure of the language.
3. To give intensive study to the various literary periods, the outstanding works, and authors of the foreign countries.
4. To enhance the philosophical understanding of the student through the focus of attention on certain philosophical contributions made to the world through the medium of the foreign language.
5. To provide an adequate knowledge of the development of the civilization and culture of the countries studied, engendering an attitude of tolerance, appreciation, and understanding of these foreign cultures.

A concentration in French will require the following courses beyond the freshman level: French 201-202, 301 and 303. Study of related courses likewise will be stressed.

A concentration in Spanish will require the following courses above the first year of college Spanish: 201-202, 301, 302, and 303. Related studies in English, history, French, etc. will be encouraged.

OBJECTIVES OF THE CONCENTRATION IN THE SCIENCES

CHEMISTRY

The objectives of a concentration in Chemistry are as follows:

1. To serve those students who desire a liberal education as well as teacher education.
2. To assist students in the mastery of background information in the Natural Sciences.
3. To assist students in the exact treatment of scientific data.

PHYSICS

The objectives of a concentration in Physics are predicated upon the following:

1. To help all students of the College become aware of the ocean basin, the earth surface, outer space and the type of changes that are being made.
2. To provide an opportunity for all students of the College to understand and appreciate the works of Astronomy, Physics, and Astro-geophysics.

3. To teach young people who show promise of becoming graduate students and students desiring to meet the urgent need for physicists in industrial or civil service research laboratories.
4. To give broad foundations in both classical and modern physics.

CHEMISTRY

Sci. 111C-112C General Chemistry 3 hours credit each semester
The fundamental chemical laws and theories, the character of the elements and their more important compounds, the solution of chemical problems and important applications. The laboratory work is devoted to qualitative and limited quantitative analysis. Lecture 2 hours and Laboratory 2 hours.

Sci. 211C-212C Analytical Chemistry 4 hours credit each semester
Volumetric analysis, including the techniques, chemistry, stoichiometric titrations, colorimetry, pH measurements and precipitation analysis. Prerequisite: Sci. 111C-112C. Lectures 2 hours and Laboratory 4 hours.

Sci. 311C-312C Organic Chemistry 3 hours credit each semester
For third year students in Biology, Chemistry, and pre-medical training. A study of alaphatic and cyclic compounds, methods of preparation, purification and identification of compounds. Prerequisites: Sci. 111C-112C. Lectures 2 hours and Laboratory 4 hours.

Sci. 321C-322C Physical Chemistry 4 hours credit each semester
For students in Biology, Chemistry, and pre-medical training. A study of the states of matter solutions, conductance, equilibrium, chemical kinetics, electrolysis, oxidation and reduction reactions. Prerequisites: Calculus I and II, General Physics. Lectures 2 hours and Laboratory 4 hours.

Sci. 411C-412C Bio-chemistry 4 hours credit each semester
Includes composition of plants, animals and seeds. Characteristics and functions of carbohydrates, lipoids, proteins, vitamins and minerals in plants and animals. Prerequisites: Sci. 111C-112C. Lectures 2 hours and Laboratory 4 hours.

PHYSICS

Sci. 111Phy-112Phy General Physics 3 hours credit each semester
Introduction of the basic physics principles of mechanics, heat and sound. Lectures 2 hours and Laboratory 2 hours.

Sci. 212Phy Mechanics 4 hours credit
Chiefly a problem solving course in mechanics, dealing with vectors, rotation, and moments of inertia. Prerequisite: Sci. 111P. Lectures 2 hours and Laboratory 2 hours.

Sci. 311Phy Heat 4 hours credit
Laws of Thermodynamics, Kinetic Theory of gases, heat engines and air-conditioning. Prerequisite: Sci. 212Phy. Lectures 2 hours and Laboratory 2 hours.

Sci. 312Phy Electricity and Magnetism 4 hours credit
Introduction to the theory of electricity and magnetism, the use of direct and indirect currents and their applications. Prerequisite: Sci. 312Phy. Lectures 2 hours and Laboratory 2 hours.

Sci. 411Phy Electronics 4 hours credit

Characteristics of vacuum tubes and transistors and their functions in various circuits. Radio and Television. Prerequisites: Sci. 311Phy-312Phy. Lectures 2 hours and Laboratory 2 hours.

Sci. 412Phy Bio-physics 4 hours credit

This course will treat those basic portions of experimental electricity, electronics, mechanics, thermodynamics, optics, and acoustics which are of value to a person preparing for a career in medical research or biophysics.

SUMMER SCHOOL

WHO MAY ATTEND

The summer school is designed to fit the particular needs of the following types of students:

1. Holders of the following certificates:
   a. Elementary A and B.
   b. Primary A, B, and C (Renewal and college credit for Primary A).
   c. Grammar A, B, and C (Renewal and college credit for Grammar A).
   d. Secondary A (Renewal and college credit).
2. College students seeking additional college credits.
3. Holders of Class A Certificates desiring to work toward renewal of present certificates.
4. Holders of any of the above-named certificates desiring to work for the bachelor's degree.
5. Special Students:
   a. High school graduates desiring college credits.
   b. Students transferring from liberal arts colleges and desiring certain required subjects obtainable in a teachers college.

RESIDENCE AND CONDUCT

Students not residents of Fayetteville, desiring to live off the campus, must write in advance for permission to live in an approved home.

Students not yet in the teaching profession are under the same rules and regulations as during the regular session.

Students who are in the teaching profession are expected to conduct themselves as ladies and gentlemen, and in a manner to reflect credit upon Fayetteville State College and upon the teaching profession.

COURSES AND SUBJECTS

The courses offered in the summer school are those required or recommended by the State Department, together with offerings from the College's curricula. All courses count toward college graduation for those who have matriculated for the bachelor's degree. Courses should be chosen with the advice of the Director and in compliance with the requirements for higher certificates and the bachelor's degree. Care must be exercised not to duplicate subjects previously taken.

SPECIAL INFORMATION FOR PERSONS SEEKING CERTIFICATION OR DEGREES WHOLLY OR PARTLY THROUGH SUMMER SCHOOL AND EXTENSION

In-service teachers, normal school graduates, or others who wish to satisfy degree or certification requirements wholly or in part through summer school work are requested to present transcripts at the Records Office and inquire upon registration concerning special regulations governing each of these special categories. Failure to do so may result in time lost by not taking the necessary requirements.

IMPORTANT NOTICE

The statements and regulations printed in this catalog are based on practices in effect during the current school year and upon those anticipated for the succeeding school year. The College reserves the right to change regulations or policies governing admission, instruction, fees, graduation, or any other regulations or policy affecting students, whenever it is deemed advantageous to the welfare or progress of the institution to do so. Such changes shall become effective at whatever time is specified by the College authorities and shall apply both to prospective students and to students already enrolled.

THE COLLEGE

Fayetteville State College provides educational experiences for young men and young women that encourage them to develop their intellectual abilities and to assume leadership positions in the State of North Carolina and the world. The College seeks to develop the intellectual capacities, ethical and moral standards, emotional and spiritual values, and aesthetic appreciations of its students. The College seeks to achieve these high aims by creating within students an unquenchable thirst for knowledge and by continuously stressing the ultimate worth of the good life which can only be achieved among educated men and women. Therefore, the curricula it offers must, and do, lend themselves to the continuous evaluation of the basic skills in reading, writing, speaking, listening, and serious reflection. Moreover, the College demands that students take part in the conversations of the past by actively participating in meaningful discussions of the history of ideas, that they become aware of the forces which cause change, and that they develop a philosophy of life which has its roots in logical deductions of their personal experiences.

The College endeavors to make its students free thinkers. It is not interested that its students echo the thoughts of professors, but that they should be capable of discerning between what is false and what is true, because the significant and relevant facts compel them to conclude what the facts conclude. In formal and informal settings, the College makes available to students notable scholars who exchange ideas with them concerning the major human issues of the past and of their time. And out of these exchanges, students develop the habit of critical thinking, analyzing and synthesizing ideas, and drawing valid conclusions.

Based upon a two-year General Education Program which emphasizes good citizenship, moral responsibility, well-developed sense of values, emotional stability, adequate knowledge of the past and contemporary life, the College offers Baccalaureate degrees in eight fields —Business Education, Elementary Education, English, Health and Physical Education, Mathematics, Science—Biology Concentration, Social Studies—History Concentration, Social Studies—Sociology Concentration. It offers concentrations in the following fields—Art Education, Music Education, French and Spanish, and Chemistry.

In non-teaching fields degrees may be earned in English, history and political science, and sociology.

GENERAL INFORMATION

Historical Facts on Fayetteville State College

The State law that created this college was Senate Bill No. 472 introduced in the Legislature on February 1, 1877, and ratified on March 8, 1877. Thus, the actual date of the founding of the college was March 8, 1877. The bill was introduced in the Senate by Mr. Thomas A. Nicholson from Iredell County and was known as the "Act to establish normal schools." Thus, Mr. Nicholson is in a sense founder of the college.

The law did not designate Fayetteville as the place for the school and many cities sought this new "State Colored Normal School." The appropriation was only $2,000, so the State officials tried to find a school already in operation which they could take over. Upon investigating the Howard School here in Fayetteville, which had been in existence for ten years, they decided it had most to offer and it was selected.

The State Colored Normal School was maintained in Fayetteville in rented buildings for the first thirty years of its existence. In all those thirty years the annual appropriation remained at approximately $2,000.

The college has been known by the following names:

Established in 1877 as the State Colored Normal School

In 1916 the name changed to State Colored Normal and Industrial School

In 1921 it became known as the State Normal School for the Negro Race

Beginning in 1926 it was simply called State Normal School

In 1939 it became Fayetteville State Teachers College

In 1963 the name was again changed to Fayetteville State College

The last high school class was graduated in 1929 and the first four year college class was graduated in 1939.

The presidents and the dates they served are as follows:

Robert L. Harris 1877-1880
Charles W. Chesnutt 1880-1883
George Williams 1888-1895
Robert E. Fairley 1898-1899
E. E. Smith 1883-1888, 1895-1898, 1899-1933
J. W. Seabrook 1933-1956
Rudolph Jones 1956-

Plant and Equipment

On 92 acres of campus, seventeen brick buildings are erected for the convenience of students and faculty. They are designed to accommodate the educational, social, recreational, and spiritual needs of students, teachers, and friends of the College. The center of the College is the classroom and four buildings are designed especially for the purpose of instruction. Seven dormitories house on-campus students: Harris, Joyner, and Smith Halls are for young women, and Hood and Williams Halls are for young men. In addition to these two new dormitories, one each for men and women, have just been completed. The Library is the repository of 46,000 volumes which adequately meet the needs of the campus population. Not only is the gymnasium the scene of athletic engagements; it provides classrooms for the College, mostly in the area of Physical Education and Health. The Classroom Building is confined mostly to instruction in the performing arts. In the Science Building are housed an elaborately furnished speech clinic and a modern foreign language laboratory. A completely outfitted infirmary with 20 beds is available to students for emergency treatments and convalescing periods. Seabrook Auditorium is the cultural center of the College, as well as the center of religious activities. Sunday vesper services are conducted in the auditorium, as well as the professional plays and musical concerts. In addition to the gymnasium, four newly constructed tennis courts, an A.A.U. regulation track, a football field, and a baseball diamond, provide for physical education facilities also.

The Laboratory School

The Newbold Training School, named in honor of the late Dr. N. C. Newbold, formerly State Director of Negro Education, is the campus laboratory school.

Students who major in Elementary Education are given an opportunity to observe teaching conditions at the Newbold School which include classroom management, curriculum planning, study of individual children and other areas of responsibility that will confront prospective teachers in the field.

Student teachers are instructed in appropriate methods in observation and participation and they are provided experiences which permit them to teach small groups of children before assuming full-responsibility of an entire class.

Student teachers are, also, assigned to other schools in the City of Fayetteville, Cumberland County, and school which are in adjacent counties.

The program of student teaching at Fayetteville State College is organized to develop efficient teachers for the schools of North Carolina who will have desirable personal characteristics, efficient teaching skills, and professional enthusiasm.

ADMISSIONS — REGISTRATION — FEES

All applicants for admission to Fayetteville State College must submit a formal application with required official transcripts and other materials to the Director of Admission. They must finish in the upper two-thirds of their graduating class and must have a combined score of 575 on the Scholastic Aptitude Test. No applicant will be permitted to register until he has been issued an admission statement by the Director of Admissions.

Applicants must have their secondary schools provide the College with a transcript of high school records, covering the entire period of their high school careers, including the subjects taken and the grades received. They must provide the College with their scores on the Scholastic Aptitude Test. It is recommended that the Scholastic Aptitude Test be taken early in the senior year.

Graduates from accredited high schools are admitted to Fayetteville State College upon presentation of certificates of credit that present a minimum of at least fifteen specific subject matter units of secondary work. The subject matter units should be distributed in the following manner:

English	3	Science	2
Mathematics	1	Health & Physical Education	1
Social Studies	2	Electives	6

No applicant will be accepted for admission to the freshman class at Fayetteville State College who has not presented an official transcript of his record and who has not presented his score on the Scholastic Aptitude Test.

Applicants who graduated from high school not accredited may be admitted by examination.

ADVANCED STANDING

Students transferring from other colleges and universities must submit in advance to the Registrar a complete transcript of all credits earned in order that they might be evaluated and the student informed of requirements to be met at Fayetteville State College. In addition to the transcript of his record, the student must present an official recommendation to indicate that he left the college previously attended in good standing. Application for admission to advanced standing should be made to the Director of Admissions.

If upon evaluation of the transcript the student is found to have any academic deficiency incurred at the college previously attended, he will be admitted as a special student and permitted to take no more than 12 semester hours during his first semester in residence. In order to gain regular standing the student must maintain a "C" average and present evidence of having taken the Scholastic Aptitude Test. Courses in the major field with the grade "D" or below must be repeated. Upon successful completion of one semester he would be permitted to register as a regular student. If regular standing is not attained, the student will be asked to withdraw.

ADMISSION AS A SPECIAL STUDENT

Persons not interested in working for a degree or who do not meet all entrance requirements may be admitted as special students. They may select courses for which they have met prerequisite requirements not exceeding 12 semester hours, which is the load limit for a special student in any given semester. Such students cannot be accepted as candidates for degrees until all entrance requirements are satisfied.

Graduates of other four-year colleges who seek to meet requirements for North Carolina State Certificates may take a full load.

A student may also be admitted as a special student if he has any physical handicap or a job which makes it advisable for him to assume a schedule lighter than the normal. Such a student may continue as a special student until such time as it is possible for him to transfer to regular status if he is passing in all his work.

The College reserves the right to limit the number of special students.

Students who have been out of school for one semester or more must re-apply for admission. If the student left in good standing, he is admitted again as a regular student.

Former students returning to the college will follow the catalogue in effect at the time they first entered provided they have not been away more than three (3) consecutive school years.

RETENTION

The College seeks to foster high scholastic performance among its students. A creditable scholastic average is expected of all persons entering a profession. Therefore, any student who does not maintain a point- hour ratio of 2.0 will be placed on academic probation for the succeeding semester. A student on academic probation will have his class load reduced to 12 hours. In the event that he does not maintain a "C" average, he will be dropped from the Institution. Such a student must re-apply for admission. If admitted the student will be permitted to take no more than 12 semester hours and must maintain a "C" average.

The College reserves the right to deny admittance or to request the withdrawal of any student who withheld requested information, or whose general attitude, moral or social behavior is considered unsatisfactory by the administration, even though no specific charge is made against the individual concerned.

Registration

Fayetteville State College has three registration periods each year. The academic year is divided into two semester of eighteen weeks each. A Summer Session is conducted for a period of nine weeks. Persons desiring to enter the College may do so at any one of these periods.

TIME OF REGISTRATION. All students must register in person at the beginning of each semester or the Summer Session. An important phase of registration at the College is the physical examination which is required of all students. An advisor is assigned each student to assist him with the selection of courses with the approval of the Dean of the College. The student, however, is responsible for taking courses in proper sequence.

LATE REGISTRATION. A student who seeks admission to the College after the regular registration period each semester or Summer Session, and who is permitted to register, must pay a late registration fee of $5.00.

CHANGE OF REGISTRATION — DROPPING AND ADDING COURSES. All changes of registration must be made in the Office of the Dean of the College. Changes in registration may not be made after the first week of classes, unless changes are requested by the Advisor and approved by the Dean of the College. Any student dropping a course without approval of the Dean will receive an "E" in the course.

Normal Load

A normal load at Fayetteville State College consists of from fifteen to nineteen semester hours. All students are expected to register for a normal load. Students who have demonstrated high academic ability and who are registered on the "Dean's List" may register for as many as twenty-one hours. Delinquent students may register for no more than twelve hours during the semester they are delinquent.

Marking System

Each student is assigned a grade at the end of each semester which indicates the quality of work done in each class. An interpretation of the grading symbols at Fayetteville State College is listed below:

A—Excellent Scholarship

C—Fair Scholarship, average quality

D—Poor Scholarship, (not passing in courses in major area)

E—Failure. (Course must be repeated)

I—Incomplete. A mark of "I" assigned a student's work indicates that there is a segment of work that must be submitted before an accurate appraisal of the work can be given. The "I" grade changes to a passing grade if work is satisfactorily submitted. If the "I" is not removed during the semester immediately following the semester it was obtained, it is automatically changed, by the Registrar, to an "E." If the student is withdrawn from school the semester following the semester in which the "I" was made and the grade is not removed, it automatically changes to an "E" one year from the date received.

X—Absent from examination. A mark of "X" indicates that a student was absent from examination for a legitimate reason. Regulations governing an "I" also govern an "X."

Change of Grades

Once an instructor has reported a final grade to the Registrar, the grade can only be changed if an error has been made either in reporting or in recording. Approval of the Dean of the College is required.

Withdrawals

Conditions and circumstances beyond the control of students often necessitate their withdrawal from courses and from the College. Students who withdraw from courses must have the approval of the instructor and the Dean of the College. Students who withdraw from courses without permission are assigned failing grades in the courses.

Whenever students must withdraw from Fayetteville State College, they must complete appropriate forms in the Personnel Office. Copies of these forms are submitted to the President, Dean, Registrar, Business Manager and Librarian.

Credit

The unit of credit is the semester hour. For each lecture hour per week, one credit hour is given. Two laboratory hours are equated with one lecture hour. To receive credit for a course a student must be officially registered.

Quality Points

To determine scholarship performance of students and to award honors, the College uses the following system in determining point values of grades assigned:

MARK	QUALITY POINTS PER CREDIT HOUR
A	4
B	3

Class Absences

Regular class attendance is required of all students. Any student who is absent from a class three times will be called in for a conference by the Personnel Deans. If such a student is absent again without an acceptable excuse he or she will be requested to withdraw from the College. This regulation will be strictly enforced. In addition all students are expected to attend all advisory sessions, assemblies, vespers, and chapel. If a student registers for a course after instruction has begun, he has incurred as many absences as the class has met prior to his entrance.

A student may be absent from class, without penalty, as many times per semester as the class meets per week. Excessive absences will result in a deduction of quality points if no excuse is granted. One quality point will be taken from the total quality points of a student for each excessive, unexcused absence.

If a student incurs absences while representing the College in extra-curricular activities, the absences will be excused. If a student is incapacitated and incurs absences beyond his excusable limit, and his illness is substantiated by officials in the infirmary, the absences will be excused. Regular visits to the infirmary will not be excused. If a student incurs an excessive number of absences for emergencies other than illness, confirmed by the Dean of Students, the absences will be excused by the Dean of the College.

Quality points will not be deducted in case of over-cuts for juniors and seniors who have a cumulative average of 3.0 or above at the time the absences are incurred.

Classification

To be classified at the College, a student must have accumulated a sufficient number of hours to meet the requirement of the class indicated below:

Freshman	0-30	semester hours— 0-30	Quality Points
Sophomore	31-60	semester hours—31-60	Quality Points
Junior	61-90	semester hours—61-90	Quality Points
Senior	91-	semester hours—91-	Quality Points

Scholastic Probation

Whenever the quality points fall below the number of credit hours taken, a student is placed on scholastic probation. Whenever the scholastic average of a student falls below the averages listed below, according to classifications, he will be asked to withdraw from the College.

Freshmen	1.00
Sophomores	1.50
Juniors	1.60
Seniors	1.80

Dean's List

To qualify for the "Dean's List," a student must be in good standing with the College, must earn no "D's," must carry a minimum of 12 semester hours, and must earn a grade point average of 3.2 or better. Students who qualify for the "Dean's List" may take extra courses upon the approval of the Dean of the College.

Examinations

A measure of the student's progress in a given course is indicated by his performance on a final examination, given at the termination of each semester. All students are expected to take final examinations unless they are exempted by their professors. Students who fail to take final examinations are given a semester grade of "X" which must be removed according to College regulations.

Freshman students must take the following examinations before they are classified:

1. English Proficiency Test
2. Mathematics Proficiency Test
3. Reading Test

NUMBERING OF COURSES

At Fayetteville State College, all courses are assigned a number. The first identification of a course is the department in which it is offered. The first number indicates the year or level of the course; the second number indicates the sequence of the courses offered in a department and the third number indicates the semester in which the course is offered. If a course is offered both semesters, the last digit is indicated by a zero. Courses are numbered in this manner: Educ. 111. This numbering indicates that the course is a freshman course, the course is offered in the first semester.

Fees

Fees are payable in full at registration, except that board, room and laundry are payable on a monthly basis. Fees cover all fixed charges, including access to facilities of the College, use of the library, laboratories, and gymnasium; admission to athletic contests, lyceum attractions, and medical fees.

The application fee for admission is not refundable whether or not the student is accepted. Applicants who are accepted will receive credit to their accounts.

The following Table gives the fees for the academic year, 1966-1967:

Determination of State Residence for Tuition

If the student's record upon original admission shows that he graduated from a high school located in North Carolina and the student claims North Carolina residency, such student will be presumed to be a bona fide resident of North Carolina unless facts suggesting the contrary appear at that time or later during the student's attendance. If the record shows that a student attended a high school outside North Carolina the student will be presumed to be an out-of-state student unless he satisfactorily supports a claim of North Carolina residency.

To establish proof of residency in the State of North Carolina, a student may present written evidence of the following:

1. Registration and voting in North Carolina
2. Assessment and payment of taxes
3. Employment in North Carolina
4. Registration with North Carolina Motor Vehicle Division
5. Establishment of residence of parent or guardian in North Carolina

A dependent of a soldier stationed in this State who is not a bona fide resident, but is here by reason of military orders, is required to pay out-of-state tuition.

Refunds

Refunds of tuition will be made on the basis of a withdrawal form filled out by the student and approved by the administration. All forms must show the date of withdrawal.

Refunds will be as follows:

Within two weeks after beginning of Semester 80%
Within three weeks after beginning of Semester 60%
Within four weeks after beginning of Semester 40%
Within five weeks after beginning of Semester 20%

After the end of the fifth week there will be no refund of tuition. All unused board will be refunded. There will be no refund for fees other than tuition and board for withdrawal after registration has been completed.

SCHOLARSHIPS, LOANS, HONORS AND AWARDS

Fayetteville State College makes available to students who can qualify for financial aid, scholarships, loans, prizes, and student employment, to assist them in obtaining a college education.

Financial aid may come either from National Defense Student Loan, Scholarships, or Work-Aid. To qualify for either of these sources a student must earn a combined Scholastic Aptitude Test Score of not less than 575 and must graduate in the upper fifty per of his class. Students who maintain an average of 2.0 ("C") or better, are eligible to receive financial assistance for four years. If a student earns an average of less than 2.0 during any semester, he is not eligible for assistance during the following semester. When a delinquent student improves his scholastic average to an acceptable stage, he may reapply for financial assistance.

STUDENT LIFE AND ACTIVITIES

Fayetteville State College endeavors to make the educational careers of students meaningful and rewarding. It encourages students to engage in activities that will afford them opportunities in leadership roles. While the primary aim of the College is to create an acceptable academic climate that will allow for the maximum growth of its students, it is not unmindful of its responsibility in providing relevant experiences that will develop the personal, social, and physical capacities of its students.

GUIDANCE SERVICES

To meet the varying needs of students, the College provides counseling and guidance services which are coordinated through the offices of the Dean of Students and Dean of Women. Individual and group guidance are conducted by faculty advisors, dormitory directors and student counselors. In addition, the Personnel and Guidance Committee seeks to promote wholesome and creative group living. Likewise, the Committee serves as a unit to which various campus problems may be referred for study.

General college advisory sessions are held once each month. However, the student may arrange for conferences with advisors whenever the need arises.

Religious Activities

The religious activities of the College are non-sectarian.

The two student organizations—the Y.M.C.A. and the Y.W.C.A.—are agencies which are involved in the development of Christian character and leadership. Through their varied programs, young men and women are aided in developing well-rounded personalities as a preparation for creative living.

Sunday School Services are conducted by the students. They are designed to create an active interest in religious activities and to develop honest, reliable young men and women.

Vesper Services are held periodically throughout the year.

Lyceum Attractions

Vocalists, instrumental artists, dramatic and dance groups and musical organizations are presented as lyceum attractions.

Social Activities

Under the supervision of the Social Committee, social gatherings are arranged for wholesome enjoyment. Organizations may also sponsor teas and other gatherings of informal, semi-formal or formal nature.

All social gatherings whether sponsored by the College or by some particular organization are approved by the Social Committee and are chaperoned by members of the faculty.

Young women of the College, who have permission from their parents, may attend social affairs off-campus.

Athletic Activities

The College is a member of the Central Intercollegiate Athletic Association. Football, basketball, baseball, track and tennis are major sports at the College.

Recreation

Recreation is an integral part of the education program in the College. Through the Physical Education Department, a program of recreation and intramural sports is provided. Each dormitory is provided with a reception room where students and faculty enjoy wholesome recreational activities.

Health Services

Through an integrated program of health instruction, health service, and a healthful environment, the College seeks to develop sound individual and group health habits.

Health services are available to the college family through the health service staff: treatment is provided for minor illnesses and minor injuries. A college infirmary is maintained for this purpose. A cooperative relationship exists between the College and hospitals in the community for the treatment of major illnesses and injuries. Consultative and guidance services are provided for the students in the office of the college nurse.

A physical examination conducted under the supervision of the College physician and the college nurse is required of each student at the beginning of the school year. A physician or dentist may be consulted as needs arise. (See section on fees for infirmary fees.)

The Library

The Chesnutt Library seeks to meet the needs of students and faculty for books, periodicals and other resources in general education and cultural reading.

A collection of juvenile literature is maintained to provide for the need of courses in Children's Literature and for supplementary instructional references on the elementary school level.

GENERAL DEGREE REQUIREMENTS, COMMENCEMENT, COLLEGE HONORS, DIPLOMA AND CERTIFICATE, PLACEMENT

GENERAL DEGREE REQUIREMENTS

To be eligible for a Bachelor of Science Degree at Fayetteville State College in any field of study, the applicant must have a total of not less than 120 semester hours of credit, must have met the requirements of his major department, and must have met the requirements of the State Department of Public Instruction. An applicant for a degree at the College must have a minimum of 240 quality points and must have an academic average in his major field of study of 2.0.

To be eligible for the Bachelor of Arts degree, the applicant must meet, in addition to the General Education requirements, specific departmental requirements set forth by the department in which the degree is sought. A minimum of 120 semester hours is required. Bachelor of Arts degrees may be earned in English, history and political science, and sociology.

All applicants for a degree at the College must spend the last year of study at the College and must earn not less than twenty-four semester hours of credit during the last year.

Unless the applicant has a 3.0 ("B") average, he cannot be graduated from the College unless he has spent at least eight semesters.

COMMENCEMENT

Commencement Exercises are held at the close of each school year, at which time degrees and diplomas are officially awarded to all graduates who have completed requirements. Graduates who complete requirements after the regular Commencement Exercises will be awarded degrees and certificates at the next regular Commencement.

COLLEGE HONORS, DIPLOMA AND CERTIFICATE, PLACEMENT

GRADUATION WITH HONORS

The degree of Bachelor of Science is awarded in three honor grades, namely, Cum Laude, Magna Cum Laude, and Summa Cum Laude.

Cum Laude shall be conferred on the basis of a minimum total average of 3.20 quality points with no grade below "C" in any course.

Magna Cum Laude shall be conferred on the basis of a minimum total average of 3.5 quality points with no grade below "C" in any course.

Summa Cum Laude shall be conferred on the basis of a minimum total average of 3.8 quality points with no grade below "C" in any course. The student must have spent three years in residence at Fayetteville.

To qualify for honors in either of the three grades, the student must have completed a minimum of sixty semester hours of credit of high quality at the College.

DIPLOMA AND CERTIFICATE

Upon graduation from a four-year curriculum the student will receive the degree of Bachelor of Science or Bachelor of Arts. In addition, the State Department of Public Instruction will issue to the graduate who has met the requirements a Teaching Certificate in accordance with the particular curriculum completed.

A certificate for teaching in the schools of North Carolina will be issued only to those applicants who are eighteen years of age or over.

Students finishing a Technical Vocational program will be given a diploma.

PLACEMENT OF GRADUATES

The placement of graduates is done by the Director of the Placement Bureau. Scholastic and personnel records of graduates are used as guides in recommending candidates for positions. A list of candidates together with a statement of their traits and ambitions is mailed to prospective employers annually.

School officials who employ graduates are requested to apprise the Administration of the College concerning the performance of graduates to assist the College in keeping its professional program dynamic and progressive.

BASIC PROGRAMS OF GENERAL EDUCATION, COURSE DESCRIPTIONS

GENERAL EDUCATION

Fayetteville State College provides for the general education of all students by offering a common core of courses which are required during the Freshman and Sophomore years. The College offers courses that meet the General Education requirements of the North Carolina State Department of Public Instruction.

The College offers two General Education Programs. One is designed to meet the needs of Elementary Education and Physical Education and Health majors, and the other is designed to meet the needs of majors in Business Education, English, History, Mathematics, Science—Biology Concentration, Sociology, Social Studies—History Concentration, Social Studies—Sociology Concentration. The programs differ in the following respects: (1) Elementary Education and Physical Education and Health majors are not required to take a Modern Foreign Language; and (2) Elementary Education and Physical Education and Health majors are required to take General Psychology and Philosophy, while majors in the other Academic Areas are not.

The General Education Program for Elementary Education and Physical Education and Health majors consists of fifty semester hours. The programs for the other Academic Areas consist of fifty-one semester hours.

A description of the General Education Programs is listed below:

TEACHER EDUCATION PROGRAMS

Traditionally, Fayetteville State College is a Teacher Education Institution. Most of its graduates have entered into the teaching fields since its founding. Until 1962, students enrolled at the College could pursue only one major—Elementary Education.

A student may enroll in courses which lead to Baccalaureate degrees in the following fields: Business Education, Elementary Education, English, History, Mathematics, Physical Education and Health, Science—Biology Concentration, Social Studies—History Concentration, Social Studies—Sociology Concentration, Sociology.

ADMISSION TO TEACHER EDUCATION

Students who desire a major in a Teacher Education Program must make application to the appropriate Departmental Chairman. Majors in Elementary Education should apply for admission to the Chairman of the Department of Education. Secondary majors should apply for admission to the Departmental Chairman with whom they will major.

Department Chairman of Secondary Areas and the Chairman of the Department of Education will arrange the professional courses for students in secondary fields.

All applicants for admission to Teacher Education Programs must have a grade point average of at least 2.50. The application should be submitted nine weeks prior to the Junior Program, either nine weeks before the end of the second semester, or three weeks prior to the end of Summer School. All applicants must be approved for physical fitness by the College physician, must manifest proficiency in oral and written expression, and must possess citizenship deemed adequate to the responsibilities of teaching.

ADMISSION TO STUDENT TEACHING

An applicant for Student Teaching must complete all appropriate Methods Courses before being considered. He must have an over-all average of 2.5.

MAJOR AND CONCENTRATION FIELDS, AREA OBJECTIVES, COURSE DESCRIPTIONS, CURRICULAR PROGRAMS

To pursue a major or concentration field in either Elementary or Secondary Education, the student should indicate his intent to the Departmental Chairman of the area in which he intends to major or concentrate. He should inform the Chairman of his interests and desires and he should be interviewed by the Chairman of the division and other professors in the area of his interests.

Before a student is permitted to begin a major program in teacher education, he must complete all course work in the General Education Program, and must maintain a minimum scholastic average of 2.50.

REQUIREMENTS FOR MAJORS

Approximately forty per cent of the undergraduate program should be spent in the major area and cognate fields. Generally, forty-eight semester hours meet the requirements of both the College and the North Carolina State Department of Public Instruction for majors in teacher education.

REQUIREMENTS FOR CONCENTRATION FIELDS

A minimum of twenty-four semester hours is required by the North Carolina State Department of Public Instruction for certification in most fields. In the areas of Art and Music, thirty-six and forty-eight hours, respectively, are required for certification. Specifically, concentration fields should be cognate areas which are part of the broad area of a discipline. While concentrations in certain areas will not certify students under the present programs, they are worthy of consideration in terms of future employment.

A student may take a concentration in the Fine Arts, Art or Music; Modern Foreign Languages, French or Spanish; and Sciences, Chemistry.

Objectives of Department of Business Education

The program leading to the Bachelor of Science degree in Business Education integrates a broad general education with specialized training for students who plan to enter the teaching profession or who desire to enter business or government service. A program of activities is planned to enable the student to develop the necessary knowledge, professional skill, and understanding required for effective and successful living in our modern society.

Two programs in Business Education are planned leading to the bachelor's degree: Comprehensive Business and Basic Business. For Basic Business, shorthand is not required, and greater emphasis is placed upon business, economics, and accounting than in Comprehensive Business.

At the present time a two-year intensive program is offered in secretarial training. Students are awarded a diploma at the completion of the two years of study.

The Department of Business Education has the following objectives:

1. To develop an understanding of the basic principles of business and commercial life and activities.
2. To develop within the student an appreciation of the importance and functions of business in our modern society and in relationship to our national economy.
3. To prepare students for positions of leadership and responsibility in the areas of teaching, business, government, and industry.
4. To develop knowledges and professional skills required for success in our business society.
5. To prepare students for graduate and advanced study.

ELEMENTARY EDUCATION AND PSYCHOLOGY

Objectives:

1. To provide a background of professional information that is necessary for elementary school teachers.
2. To develop those teaching skills and competencies that are needed at the elementary school level.
3. To develop an appreciation for elementary school teaching as a profession.

SECONDARY EDUCATION

The general objective for the program in Secondary Education is to prepare teachers for working in the secondary school, including the junior high school.

The program is organized into three principal areas, each of which has its own objectives and appropriate courses. The areas are: The Pupil, The School, and Teaching and Practicum.

The primary purpose of the instruction in the area of The Pupil is to develop an understanding of the essential nature of the secondary school pupil, including the way he grows and develops, his principal characteristics at each level of development; the way he learns; and the ways in which he differs from other pupils.

The primary purpose of the work in the area of The School is to provide the prospective secondary school teacher with an understanding of the secondary school as an educational and social institution, including the basic principles that underlie the entire structure of secondary education.

The primary purposes of the instruction in the Teaching and Practicum area are to provide opportunities for carrying out systematic and directed observations in actual classroom situations; to develop the ability to use the materials and procedures, both general and special, that are appropriate to each teaching field; and to initiate the student into active class control under supervision.

OBJECTIVES OF THE DEPARTMENT OF ENGLISH

The Department of English has four major objectives. They are as follow:

1. To give all students the communicative skills that the educated man must have.
2. To give the students majoring in English that background and specialized training necessary to teach English on the secondary level.
3. To provide the majors with a foundation that will enable them to pursue graduate study in English and related areas.
4. To equip the majors with the essential knowledge that will make them eligible to select a variety of occupations which demand training in the liberal arts.

GENERAL REGULATIONS FOR MAJORS AND MINORS:

1. Majors and minors must complete the General Education Program English courses before they can take major or minor courses.
2. They must make a minimum grade of "C" in all English courses.
3. English majors must finish at least four semesters of a modern foreign language.
4. Majors and minors must pass comprehensive language and literature examinations given during the senior year.

Description of Courses in English

Eng. 100A-100B Developmental Reading — 0 credit hour each semester

A developmental reading course that covers the following topics: silent reading skills, vocabulary studies, uses of the dictionary, phonetic analysis of words, word-study skills and the art of listening. The class meets two hours each week.

Eng. 111-112 Grammar and Composition — 3 credit hours each semester

An integrated study and practice of the language skills: reading, writing, speaking and listening. A detailed study of the main types of composition: exposition, argumentation, description and narration and the writing of the research paper. Eng. 111 is a prerequisite of Eng. 112.

Eng. 211-212 World Literature — 3 credit hours each semester

A study of selected masterpieces of literature beginning with Homer and terminating with outstanding twentieth century English and American writers. The first semester includes Homer through Chekhov. The second semester deals with English and American literature from Beowulf to the twentieth century. Prerequisites: Eng. 111 and Eng. 112.

Eng. 222 History of the English Language 3 credit hours

A study of the history of the English language with special emphasis on the development of English inflections, English sounds, changing meanings and values of words, syntax and usage.

Eng. 231 Advanced Grammar and Composition 3 credit hours

A descriptive and analytical study of present-day grammar and further practice in argumentative, expository, narrative and descriptive writing.

Eng. 310 Modern Drama 3 credit hours

A study of the principal European and American dramatists since 1890. Among the playwrights studies are Ibsen, Strindberg, Chekhov, Brecht, Pirandello, Sartre, Shaw, Eliot, O'Casey, O'Neil, Williams and Miller.

Eng. 311-312 English Literature 3 credit hours each semester

A survey of English literature as represented by major writers from the Anglo-Saxon Period to the twentieth century. First semester: Major writers from Beowulf to the end of the eighteenth century. Second semester: Major authors from the beginning of the nineteenth century to contemporary writers.

Eng. 320 Children's Literature 3 credit hours

An introduction to the most significant literary contributions to children's literature from a variety of ethnic origins. Among the types of literature examined are ballads, humorous and nonsense verses, folk tables, fables, myths, epics and biographies.

Eng. 321-322 American Literature 3 credit hours each semester

An introduction to the major movements in and the writers of American literature. First semester: A survey of major writers from Sewell to Herman Melville. Second semester: A survey of a major writers from John G. Whittier to Robert P. Warren.

Eng. 330 Introduction to Literary Criticism 3 credit hours

A course which traces the development of criticism through the study of major critical texts from Plato's Republic to twentieth century American criticism.

Eng. 340 Public Speaking 3 credit hours

A course involving the principles of composition and delivery with practice in preparing and presenting short informative, entertaining and persuasive speeches.

Eng. 350 Phonetics 3 credit hours

A study of the production and transcript of phonetic symbols representing general American speech. Southern and eastern regional dialects are considered.

Eng. 410 Organization and Administration of School Libraries 3 credit hours

A practical course that acquaints the students with the importance, organization and administration of school libraries. Recommended for all prospective teachers.

Eng. 411 The Teaching of Reading — 3 credit hours

A consideration of the principles, methods, procedures and materials dealing with the broad aspects of the reading program, ranging from readiness to diagnostic and remedial techniques. Attention is given to phonics, word recognition ,vocabulary development, and silent and oral reading skills, with directed observation and participation. The course is designed solely for teachers of English.

Eng. 412 The Eighteenth Century — 3 credit hours

A critical and historical study of major writers of the period from 1660-1800. Included are Dryden, Swift, Pope, Johnson, Defoe, Addison and Steele.

Eng. 420 Reference Works and Their Uses — 3 credit hours

This is a course designed to acquaint students with various types of reference materials, standards for their evaluation, and methods of utilizing them in school libraries.

Eng. 421 Shakespeare — 3 credit hours

A study of at least twelve plays selected from four periods of Shakespeare's development as a dramatist from a literary apprentice to the master of the theater.

Eng. 422 Romantic Poetry — 3 credit hours

A critical and historical study of major poets of the English Romantic Movement from the beginning to the romantic triumphs. Among the poets studied are Gray, Thomson, Blake, Wordsworth, Coleridge, Byron, Shelley and Keats.

Eng. 430 The English Novel — 3 credit hours

A study of the historical development of the English novel from the early eighteenth century to the early twentieth century. Selections from the following authors: Defoe, Richardson, Fielding, Austen, Scott, Dickens, The Bronte Sisters, Eliot, Meredith, Hardy and Stevenson.

Eng. 440 The American Novel — 3 credit hours

A study of the historical development of the American novel. Among the authors included are Cooper, Hawthorne, Melville, Twain, Howells, James, Crane, Wharton, Dreiser, Anderson, Lewis, Faulkner, Hemingway and Steinbeck.

Eng. 450 Victorian Prose and Poetry — 3 credit hours

A general critical survey of selected works of Hazlitt, Lamb, DeQuincey, Carlyle, Tennyson, Browning, Arnold, Rosetti, Morris, Fitzgerald, Clough, Swinburne, Thompson, Newman, Mill, Ruskin, Huxley, Pater, Darwin, Arnold.

Eng. 460 Milton — 3 credit hours

A critical analysis of selected major works by Milton considered against the religious, political, and scientific developments of the sevententh century.

Eng. 470 Chaucer and the Medieval World — 3 credit hours

A study of Chaucer's major poetry considered in relation to his times.

OBJECTIVES OF THE DEPARTMENT OF MATHEMATICS

The objectives of the Department of Mathematics are as follow:

1. To strengthen students in the basic concepts of mathematics for quantitative thinking and expression in our present social order.
2. To aid students to utilize basic skills as they relate to other quantitative and qualitative subjects.
3. To prepare students to teach science and mathematics in the secondary school and to pursue graduate study.
4. To prepare those students whose abilities lead to non-teaching professions with the necessary background.

Descriptions of Courses in Mathematics

Math. 110 Fundamental Concepts of Mathematics 3 credit hours

A course devoted to the structure of the real number system and its sub-systems, basic concepts of Algebra and informal Geometry.

Math. 111-112 College Algebra and Trigonometry
3 credit hours each semester

An effort is made in the course to correlate closely the essentials of algebra, trigonometry, analytic geometry, and the elementary calculus. In addition to the correlation of the material of these subjects, the course seeks to show many applications of mathematics in other fields of endeavor. The work of the course is organized around three fundamental concepts: (a) the concept of function; (b) the concept of an equation; (c) the concept of a locus.

Math. 211 Analysis 3 credit hours

Use of coordinates in two dimensions, conic sections, tangents, parametric equations, surfaces, planes, straight lines in space, transformation of coordinate. Recommended as an elective for those students who have taken college algebra or trigonometry in secondary school.

Math. 212 Fundamental Concepts of Modern Geometry
3 credit hours

Properties of triangles and circles, homothetic transformations, the nine-point circle, Simson line, harmonic section, Menelaus' and Ceva's theorems, closely related to the field of Euclidean geometry. Prerequisites: Math. 321-322, or the consent of the instructor.

Math. 311-312 Introduction to Modern Algebra I, II
3 credit hours each semester

Group, rings, fields, vector spaces and linear transformations, classification of quadratic forms. Prerequisites: Math. 321-322.

Math. 321-322 Calculus I, II 3 credit hours each semester

Differential and integral calculus with functions of polynomial form, algebraic transcendental functions, including infinite series, partial differentiation, multiple integration and elementary differential equations. Prerequisite: Math. 211.

Math. 332 Differential Equations 3 credit hours

Emphasis on the solution of ordinary linear differential equations. Attention to methods of numerical analysis of non-linear equations. Applications to science and engineering stressed. Prerequisites: Math. 321-322.

Math. 342 Theory of Equations 3 credit hours

Complex numbers, general theory of matrices. Prerequisite: Math. 322.

Math. 410 Probability and Statistics 4 credit hours

Samples spaces and probability measure. Random variables. The addition and multiplication principles. Simple descriptive statistics. Repeated trials and the binomial distribution as the limiting form of the binomial distribution. The normal reproduction law. Bivariate distributions and least squares. Coefficient of correlation. The use of confidence intervals for statistical inference. 2 Lectures, 2 hours Laboratory. Prerequisites: Math 321-322.

Math. 410T Introduction to Modern Mathematics Credits may vary

Examination and evaluation of the more significant contemporary ideas in mathematics. Topics in arithmetic, algebra and geometry are presented in such a way that the student is stimulated by the ideas. This course is designed to meet the needs of an in-service teacher who may need help to work with some of the new programs.

Math. 411 Calculus III 3 credit hours

A detailed and rigorous discussion of the notions of limit, continuity; properties of continuous functions; mean value theorems and Taylor's Formula'.

Math. 420 Solid Geometry 3 credit hours

A desirable elective course for students planning to teach in the secondary school who have not taken the course in secondary school. Must have consent of the instructor to take the course.

Math. 430 History of Mathematics 2 credit hours

A survey of the development of mathematics, with biographical references, national achievements, and discussions of mathematics interest.

Math. 430T Reading and Honors in Mathematics Credits may vary

Juniors and Seniors, with the approval of the Mathematics Department, may enroll for special advanced work not offered in courses at the 300 and 400 level. Prerequisites: Math. 342 and written approval of the head of the department.

Math. 440 Statistics 3 credit hours

Measure of central tendency, dispersion, regression equations, correlation, reliability, index numbers, normal probability curve, sampling. 2 Lectures, 2 hours Laboratory. Prerequisites: Math. 111-112, or consent of instructor.

Math. 440T Geometry 3 credit hours

Projective geometry and sub-geometrics: algebraic and synthetic approach. Prerequisite: Mathematics 211.

Math. 450 Set Theory 3 credit hours

A rigorous study of axiomatic set theory; topics include ordinal numbers, transfinite induction, cardinal arithmetic, and the Axiom of Choice.

Math. 450T Theory of Numbers 3 credit hours

Elementary properties of integers, divisibility, Euclid's algorithm, prime numbers, congruences.

Math. 460 Introduction to the Theory of Real Variables 3 credit hours

A rigorous treatment of limits, function, continuity, differentiability and infinite series. Introduction of the Riemann—Steltzes integral and Lebesque theory. Recommended for prospective graduate students. Prerequisite: Mathematics 322.

Math. 460T Linear Algebra 3 credit hours

Vectors, Matrices and related topics. Prerequisite: Mathematics 322.

OBJECTIVES OF THE DEPARTMENT OF PHYSICAL EDUCATION AND HEALTH

The Physical Education and Health Department offers a well-rounded program designed to provide opportunities for each student to receive practical health instruction which will lead to healthful living and to develop interest and skill in the various phases of physical education according to his needs and ability.

The program is closely allied with recreation, safety, and athletics, and contributes to many areas of the total college program.

The Department of Physical Education and Health has the following objectives:

1. To provide technical training for those interested in teaching physical education and health in the public schools.
2. To provide opportunities for students to learn to meet the responsibilities they have or will have for certain aspects of physical education.
3. To provide opportunities for participation in wholesome recreational activities.
4. To promote in the individual and in the group physical and emotional health.

Requirements:

During the freshman year all students are required to take physical education. Majors in physical education must satisfy institutional requirements for graduation and also meet the standards of the State for certification. Students transferring from other colleges will have their previous work in this area, if passing, credited toward the requirement. A broad program of intramural sports is provided to meet the needs of both men and women who are not engaged in inter-collegiate competition.

Descriptions of Courses in Physical Education and Health

H. Educ. 112 Personal Hygiene — 1 credit hour

The several aspects of personal hygiene emphasizing the organic system—normal and abnormal, and the conditions pertaining thereto together with the rules of personal health which make for effective living.

H. Educ. 122 First Aid and Safety — 2 credit hours

This course is designed to teach the underlying principles and applied techniques of first aid. American Red Cross certificates are given upon satisfactory completion of the course.

H. Educ. 411 School Health Education — 3 credit hours

A study of content, methods and materials in preparing the teacher to handle health classes at either the elementary, junior or senior school level.

H. Educ. 421 Principles, Practices, and Procedures in Health Education — 3 credit hours

This course is designed to give study to the fundamental principles upon which health is based. Materials and methods of teaching health to elementary school children are studied along with health texts, pamphlets and charts appropriate to varying age levels. Preparation for student teaching in this field is accomplished.

P. Educ. 111 Physical Education — 1 credit hour

This course is designed to teach games of all types. Individual contests, mass and small group contests, combative relay and loosely grouped team contests with both indoor and outdoor application are presented.

P. Educ. 121 Introduction to Physical Education — 1 credit hour

Orientation of the student in the field of health and physical education. The course is designed to give the student fundamental knowledge and skills in a wide variety of activities. (Majors only)

P. Educ. 211-212 Advanced Games and Sports — 1 credit hour each semester

Concerned with graded development of the fundamental skills involved in gymnastics, athletic games, individual and dual sports, and rhythmics. The course is required of all sophomores.

P. Educ. 222 Coaching and Officiating — 2 credit hours

The organization and administration of intramural activities and coaching and officiating seasonal major and minor sports.

P. Educ. 311 History and Principles of Physical Education and Curriculum — 3 credit hours

This course is concerned with the understanding and interpretation of the principles of the modern physical education program. Contribution of historical programs related to the development of the present-day program are studied and evaluated.

P. Educ. 312 Individual Sports — 2 credit hours

Individual sports (archery, badminton, bowling, golf, table tennis and tennis) is offered to provide an opportunity for physical education majors to develop a broad background in these activities and the necessary competencies for teaching these activities.

P. Educ. 321-322 Team Sports — 2 credit hours each semester

This course is designed to cover the basic knowledge, proper techniques and the practice of fundamental skills of team sports such as touch football, soccer, field hockey, volleyball, basketball, and baseball.

P. Educ. 331 Kinesiology — 2 credit hours

This is a general introductory course dealing with the application of the science of kinesiology as it is made in analysis of movements and fundamentals of successful performance.

P. Educ. 332 Group Games — 3 credit hours

Methods of playing and teaching certain games of low organization.

The learning of folk and gymnastic dances and singing games suitable for the playground, gymnasium, community center, and recreation in general.

P. Educ. 342 Tumbling, Stunts, and Apparatus 2 credit hours

This course is designed for the development of performance ability in the execution of apparatus and tumbling exercise and special attention is given to methods of teaching various gymnastic activities.

P. Educ. 410 Curriculum in Physical Education 3 credit hours

Principles, problems, and procedures in the development of a physical education curriculum are considered. Special emphasis is placed upon developing a course of study in physial education for a chosen situation.

P. Educ. 411 Organization and Administration of Health and Physical Education 3 credit hours

The philosophy and methodology of the organization and administration of the physical education aspect of a complete school health and physical education program.

P. Educ. 412 Community Recreation 2 credit hours

A course in the study of the profitable use of leisure time—hobbies, activities, and games suitable for children as well as adults.

P. Educ. 420 Problems in Interscholastic Activities 2 credit hours

Study of the organization and administration of athletics in high schools. Problems concerning officiating, scheduling and efficient team play are considered.

P. Educ. 421 Measurement and Evaluation in Health and Physical Education 3 credit hours

The theory of measurement in health and physical education, the selection and administration of appropriate tests, and the interpretation of their results by fundamental statistical procedures.

P. Educ. 422 Athletic Injuries and Instruction in Athletic Problems 2 credit hours

Designed to teach underlying principles and applied techniques in injuries, bandaging and massage. The proper care of individuals in athletic competition is stressed.

P. Educ. 432 Principles, Practices, and Procedures in Physical Education 3 credit hours

A study of the problems of physical education with participation in games, calisthenics, plays, pageants and other activities appropriate to the elementary school level. Students are encouraged to make collections of materials which may be useful in their own teaching.

P. Educ. 442 Fundamentals and Techniques of Dance 2 credit hours

This course includes folk, square, tap, and modern dances. Materials included which serve as a fundamental of dance movement in relation to music; mixers, rounds and creative composition; and dances that are peculiar to foreign countries.

OBJECTIVES OF THE DEPARTMENT OF SCIENCE—BIOLOGY CONCENTRATION

The objectives of the Department of Science—Biology Concentration are as follows:

1. To secure a knowledge of biological services.
2. To assist in the mastery of tools for scientific study.
3. To promote clean, incisive thought and definition.
4. To control experimentation.
5. To enter medical school if interests direct.
6. To pursue graduate study.

The Department of Biology introduces students to the scientific method of inquiry which assists them in arriving at the truth. It offers courses to prepare students to meet the general education requirements of the College and for entrance into graduate, medical, and dental schools.

Course Descriptions for History and Political Science

Hist. 111-112 World History — 3 credit hours each semester

A survey of the history of man—his governmental, economic, social, religious, intellectual, and esthetic activities—from the earliest times to 1715 in Europe, Asia, Africa, and the Americas. The second phase of this study deals with a historical survey of man's development from 1715 to the present. Special attention will be devoted to rationalism, democracy, nationalism, romanticism, industrialism, imperialism, and total war and revolution.

Hist. 211 United States History to 1865 — 3 credit hours

A basic course which deals with the political, social, religious, economic, intellectual, and esthetic forces affecting the development of the United States from its background in Europe through the American Civil War.

Hist. 212 United States History Since 1865 — 3 credit hours

This course includes the reconstruction period, industrialism and other forces affecting the American tradition from the Civil War to the present. New developments in social and political thoughts are evaluated.

Hist. 222 Ancient History — 3 credit hours

This course examines the origins, developments and contributions of ancient civilizations from preliterate times to the fall of the Roman Empire.

Hist. 311 Modern European History from 1500 to 1815 3 credit hours

This course will make an intensive survey of the forces responsible for the making of modern Europe from 1500 to 1815. Among these forces considered are: The Renaissance, Reformation, Commercial, Agricultural and Industrial Revolutions, Constitutional Government in England, Eighteenth Century Thought, Imperialism, the French Revolution and the Congress of Vienna.

Hist. 312 Modern European History Since 1815 3 credit hours

A study of the European civilization since the Congress of Vienna. Special attention will be given to the rise and fall of nazism and fascism, the development of communism and capitalism and the Cold War.

Hist. 321-322 Constitutional History 3 credit hours each semester

Constitutional questions are viewed in respect to their background in history, politics, religion, and economics. Emphasis will be given to trends in constitutional law as related to federalism, the separation and delegation of powers, commerce, taxation, subversion, and civil rights in peace and war. Prerequisites: History 211-212.

Hist. 332 American Diplomatic History 3 credit hours

A general study of the history of American diplomacy from Revolution to the present. Chronological analysis will be made of the forces affecting general and regional foreign policies. Prerequisites: History 211-212.

Hist. 342 Survey of Latin America 3 credit hours

A study of the settlement, colonial institutions and society, causes of the revolutions, and the establishment of the independent nations. A study of the independent nations and their relations with one another, Europe, and the United States.

Hist. 410 History of the Far East 3 credit hours

This course deals with the cultural and political developments of the civilizations of China, Japan, India, and selected countries in Southeast Asia. Emphasis will be on the reciprocal impact caused by the contacts between oriental and occidental peoples.

Hist. 411 The Negro in American History 3 credit hours

This course deals with the history of the American Negro from his African and European backgrounds through Colonial America to the present. Special attention will be given to the effect of slavery and segregation on the personality and destiny of the Negro.

Hist. 422 History of the South 3 credit hours

A regional history of the Southern states from 1820 to the present. This course begins with the Negro question, and it traces the development of those political and social traits which make the region between the Potomac and the Rio Grande a cultural province conscious of its identity.

Hist. 421 Problems in American History — 3 credit hours

A consideration of selected controversial issues in American History. Students will evaluate critically such issues as the causes and results of the American War for Independence, sectionalism, the American Civil War, the New Deal, etc.

Hist. 432 Survey of Russian History — 3 credit hours

A history of the political, economic, social, and ideological aspects of the Russian society. Comparative analysis will be made of the late tsarist and soviet periods. The course will emphasize contemporary Russian history, especially as it relates to international affairs.

Govt. 210 American Government — 3 credit hours

An introductory course in American Government reviewing the historical background and purposes of political institutions. Emphasis is on the structure and activities of the American system—federal, state, and local. The major aims of the course are to develop politically well informed, loyal, and civic-minded citizens.

Govt. 311 Comparative Government — 3 credit hours

Comparative analysis will be made of the governments of Great Britain, France, West Germany, Russia, and selected smaller European countries as basic examples of European democratic and non-democratic governments. In each analysis comparison will be made with the United States Government. Special attention will be given to historical backgrounds, political parties, and electoral systems.

Govt. 321 Political Parties and Pressure Groups — 3 credit hours

A study of the history, organization, functions, and methods of American political parties and pressure groups. The relationship between governments and parties and organized interest groups will be emphasized.

OBJECTIVES OF THE CONCENTRATION IN FINE ARTS

ART—MUSIC

The objectives of the Area of Fine Arts are threefold. Realizing that a knowledge of the Fine Arts is a vital part of education, and our way of life, the area attempts (1) to develop an intelligent appreciation of and a desire for the arts that will be of lasting value in the of every student; (2) to meet the needs of students majoring in Elementary and Secondary Education; and (3) to provide instruction in certain branches of the arts, so that students from other areas of the college, and unclassified students, may pursue courses toward a concentration, or for elective credit.

Requirements for Art Concentration

Students taking a concentration in Art are expected to demonstrate an interest in the program as offered by the College and show a definite aptitude for the visual arts. They will be requested by the Art Area to submit samples of previous art work. The art work may be in any medium.

All students who take a concentration in Art must select at least one medium for advance studio courses. They will be required to complete a special project in specialized media in the Advanced studio courses.

Students must exhibit resourcefulness and the ability to work with an increasing degree of independence. They must exhibit work in at least two public art exhibitions.

One hour of teaching will be required in conjunction with the methods course.

Requirements for Music Concentration

Each student taking a concentration in Music is required to select one performing medium. This may be piano, voice, woodwind or brass instrument. This medium should be studied in private instruction throughout the student's four years in college, or until he has reached the standard of proficiency required for graduation, which is a high quality of solo or ensemble performance.

A student with a concentration in Music is required before graduation to demonstrate his ability to play on the piano third grade music, community songs, and simple accompaniments in a musical manner, transpose easy pieces and harmonize easy melodies at the keyboard.

Each student is required before graduation to demonstrate his ability to sing accurately as to pitch and rhythm in an acceptable voice.

All students in applied music are required to appear in student recitals during the school year.

All students who take a concentration in Music will be given placement examinations in piano, voice or instrument, and talent tests on entering college. Students who do not meet the requirements in their chief performing instrument will be required to take preparatory work without credit.

Music work taken under private teachers or from unaccredited schools may be validated for credit by the student passing a proficiency examination. No music student is permitted to make public performances without the consent of his instructor.

Applied music students are expected to practice regularly the assigned number of hours per week for each lesson taken. Students are expected to practice six hours per week for each private half-hour lesson taken, and twelve hours per week for each private one hour lesson per week.

Extended absences of students should be reported to the Music Office. Students absent from Applied Music lessons for the equivalent of three weeks of lessons will find it difficult to arrange for making up such private instruction. Such students will have the privilege to make up practice hours missed. Whenever a student has been absent for three lessons or more in any course, he automatically forfeits credit in the course, unless proper arrangements are made with the Instructor and the Dean of the College.

No student registered in the Music Department is allowed to study music with a teacher not on the staff of the Music Department, nor is he allowed to belong to a musical organization on or off campus without the permission of the Chairman of the Department of Music and the Dean of the College.

Courses in Applied Music are open to all college students.

All students are required to belong to the musical organization for which they are qualified throughout their four years of college.

This course is designed to give a background concerning art forms that have been developed in many various cultures. A study will be made of architecture, sculpture, painting and the minor arts.

Art 212 Elementary Freehand Drawing 2 credit hours

This course will give basic principles concerning freehand drawing with emphasis on self-expression, arrangement, composition, and the handling of a variety of paint media.

Art 311 Arts and Crafts 2 credit hours

Emphasis will be placed upon activities for elementary school teachers. Simple sculptured forms, construction, printing, designing, carving, weaving, modeling, and lettering will be included in the course. Handling such materials as wood, metal, clay, fabrics, and paper will provide for creative expression.

Art 312 Drawing and Painting 2 credit hours

This course gives practical work in simple composition—landscape, still life, and portrait drawing. Special emphasis is placed upon line, tone, texture, and color in objective and non-objective art.

Art 411 Methods in Teaching Art 3 credit hours

This course includes problems in children's art, the nature of art for children, art for creative expression, and the correlation of art with other class subjects. It includes practical work in the making of simple projects to be used in the elementary school.

Art 412 Advanced Drawing and Painting 3 credit hours

This course offers additional experience in handling such paint media as pastels, water color, and oils. A choice of subject matter is left with the student but landscapes, portraits, and still-life may be included. (For minors only.)

Art 422 Studio Art 3 credit hours

This course is designed for students who are preparing to do advanced work and who can work with a degree of independence. The work may be done in ceramics, sculpture, painting or design.

Descriptions of Courses in Music Concentration

Mus. 100a-100b Applied Music — No credit

Instruction in piano and instruments for students who do not meet the requirements in their principal performing instrument. (For music minors only.)

Mus. 111-112 Applied Music (Primary Instrument) — 1 credit hour each semester

Applied music in voice, piano, band and orchestral instruments and organ.

Mus. 121-122 Applied Music (Secondary Instrument) — ½ credit hour each semester

Applied music in voice, piano, band and orchestral instruments and organ.

Mus. 210 Music Appreciation — 2 credit hours

This course is designed to acquaint the student with certain elements and principles of music necessary for intelligent listening and appreciation. A survey of the chief developments of music history, the work of master composers, and the trends in contemporary music.

Mus. 211-212 Applied Music (Primary Instrument)
1 credit hour each semester

Applied music in voice, piano, band and orchestral instruments and organ.

Mus. 220 Music Fundamentals — 2 credit hours

A course designed to enrich the students' musical experiences and broaden their appreciation and understanding of music. Study of major and minor scales, notation, time, oral and written dictation, sight reading of exercises and melodies. (For Elementary Education majors and Music minors.)

Mus. 221-222 Applied Music (Secondary Instrument)
½ credit hour each semester

Applied music in voice, piano, band and orchestral instruments and organ.

Mus. 231-232 Class Piano — 1 credit hour

This course is designed to provide enough keyboard facility to enable the student to play easy pieces, and accompaniments. This course includes scales and easy keyboard techniques. (Elective for non-music minors.)

Mus. 241-242 Class Voice and Class Instruments
2 credit hours each semester

Class instruction in voice production and band and orchestral instruments. (For Music minors—Elective.)

Mus. 311-312 Applied Music (Primary Instrument)
1 credit hour each semester

Applied music in voice, piano, band and orchestral instruments and organ.

Mus. 321 Music Theory I — 3 credit hours

A fundamental theory course covering key signatures, scales, forms, intervals, triads, sight singing and dictation. Development of a basic music vocabulary. Writing and playing of all intervals and triads. (For Music minors only.)

Mus. 322 Music Theory II — 3 credit hours

Emphasis on traditional harmony. Elementary work in keyboard harmony, part writing, harmonization. (For Music minors only.)

Mus. 331 Music History — 3 credit hours

A detailed study of music from the earliest beginning to the music of our present time. Emphasis is given to an acquaintance with representative musical concepts in the light of their historical background. (For Music minors only.)

Mus. 332 Conducting — 2 credit hours

Fundamental techniques of the baton, interpretation, rehearsal techniques, rhythm, tone quality and diction are emphasized. Prerequisites: Mus. 210 and Mus. 220.

Mus. 340 Music Education — 3 credit hours

A study in the philosophy, objectives, materials and methods of presenting music in the schools. (For Elementary Education majors.) Prerequisite: Mus. 220.

Mus. 341-342 Class Piano — 1 credit hour

A continuation of Mus. 231-232. (Elective for non Music minors.)

Mus. 411-412 Applied Music (Primary Instrument) — 1 credit hour each semester

Applied music in voice, piano, band and orchestral instruments and organ.

Mus. 430 Advanced Music Education — 3 credit hours

Student teachers will receive practice in teaching music to children in the various grades. (Elective for non Music minors.)

Mus. 431 Music Education — 3 credit hours

A study in the philosophy, objectives, materials and methods of presenting music in the schools. (For Music minors only.)

Mus. 441-442 Class Piano — 1 credit hour

A continuation of Mus. 341-342. A study of more advanced keyboard techniques. Prerequisites: Mus. 231-232, Mus. 351-342 or equivalent. This course is for non Music minors.

OBJECTIVES OF THE CONCENTRATION IN MODERN FOREIGN LANGUAGES

FRENCH—SPANISH

The program places emphasis upon the development of conversational fluency of the language. Utilization of an electronic language laboratory greatly facilitates the attainment of the oral-aural skills.

Specific objectives:

The program has as its aims the following:

1. To equip students with the basic linguistic skills of speaking, reading, comprehending, and writing the language with ease.
2. To provide knowledge of the structure of the language.
3. To give intensive study to the various literary periods, the outstanding works, and authors of the foreign countries.
4. To enhance the philosophical understanding of the student through the focus of attention on certain philosophical contributions made to the world through the medium of the foreign language.
5. To provide an adequate knowledge of the development of the civilization and culture of the countries studies, engendering an attitude of tolerance, appreciation, and understanding of these foreign cultures.

A concentration in French will require the following courses beyond the freshman level: French 201-202, 301 and 303. Study of related courses likewise will be stressed.

A concentration in Spanish will require the following courses above the first year of college Spanish: 211-212, 311-312. Related studies in English, history, French, etc. will be encouraged.

Descriptions of Courses in French and Spanish Concentrations

French 111-112 Elementary French 3 credit hours each semester

This course is designed to develop the basic communicative skills; speaking, aural comprehension, writing and reading. Covers fundamental grammar. Regular laboratory practice.

French 211-212 Intermediate French 3 credit hours each semester

Conversation, compositions and discussions based upon intermediate cultural readings. Grammar review and laboratory practice. Prerequisite: French 112 or placement examination.

French 311 Composition, Conversation, Phonetics 3 credit hours

Intensive training in speaking and writing. A thorough study of the French vowels and consonants, the grouping and phrasing of words, diction and intonation. Particularly for students who will enter courses conducted completely in French. Prerequisite: French 212.

French 411 17th Century French Literature 3 credit hours

An intensive study of the literary masterpieces of the 17th century with special emphasis upon Corneille, Racine and Moliere. Conducted in French.

Spanish 111-112 Elementary Spanish 3 credit hours each semester

The course is designed to develop oral-aural skills, to provide study of the basic grammatical structure of the language, and to develop the ability to read and write simple Spanish. Exercises in the language laboratory will be included.

Spanish 211-212 Intermediate Spanish
3 credit hours each semester

The course will continue the development of the basic skills in the use of the language, with emphasis on effecting a greater oral fluency and a broader reading comprehension. Equipment in the language laboratory will be utilized in working toward the objectives.

Spanish 311 Introduction to Spanish Literature 3 credit hours

This is a survey of Spanish literature from its beginning to the early twentieth century. There will be analyses of masterpieces with back ground material on literary movements and the significant social and political trends of Spain of that time. Conducted chiefly in Spanish.

Spanish 312 Hispanic Civilization and Culture 3 credit hours

This is a study of the historical development of Spain and Spanish America with attention given to the life customs, philosophy, and general cultural patterns of the people. Conducted to Spanish.

Spanish 321 Advanced Composition and Conversation
3 credit hours

This course is designed to develop greater fluency in the use of the spoken idiom with conversation, discussions, reports, etc. There will be provision also for practice in correct expression of the written language.

OBJECTIVES OF THE CONCENTRATION IN THE SCIENCES CHEMISTRY

The objectives of a concentration in Chemistry are as follows:

1. To serve those students who desire a liberal education as well as teacher education.

2. To assist students in the mastery of background information in the Natural Sciences.
3. To assist students in the exact treatment of scientific data.

Descriptions of Courses in Chemistry Concentration

CHEMISTRY

Sci. 111C-112C General Chemistry 4 hours credit each semester

The fundamental chemical law and theories, the character of the elements and their more important compounds, the solution of chemical problems and important applications. The laboratory work is devoted to qualitative and limited quantitative analysis. Lecture 2 hours and Laboratory 2 hours.

Sci. 211C-212C Analytical Chemistry 3 hours credit each semester

Volumetric analysis, including the techniques, chemistry, stoichiometric titrations, colorimetry, pH measurements and precipitation analysis. Prerequisite: Sci. 111C-112C. Lectures 2 hours and Laboratory 4 hours.

Sci. 311C-312C Organic Chemistry 3 hours credit each semester

For third year students in Biology, Chemistry, and pre-medical training. A study of alaphatic and cyclic compounds, methods of preparation, purification and identification of compounds. Prerequisites: Sci. 111C-112C. Lectures 2 hours and Laboratory 4 hours.

Sci. 321C-322C Physical Chemistry 3 hours credit each semester

For students in Biology, Chemistry, and pre-medical training. A study of the states of matter solutions, conductance, equilibrium, chemical kinetics, electrolysis, oxidation and reduction reactions. Prerequisites: Calculus I and II, General Physics. Lectures 2 hours and Laboratory 4 hours.

Sci. 411C-412C Bio-chemistry 3 hours credit each semester

Includes composition of plants, animals and seeds. Characteristics and functions of carbohydrates, lipoids, proteins, vitamins and minerals in plants and animals. Prerequisites: Sci. 111C-112C. Lectures 2 hours and Laboratory 4 hours.

PHYSICS

Sci. 111Phy-112Phy General Physics
3 hours credit each semester

Introduction to the basic physics principles of mechanics, heat and sound. Lectures 2 hours and Laboratory 2 hours.

Descriptions of General Science Courses

Sci. 212ES Introduction to Earth Science 3 credit hours

Recent Advances in Earth Science—designed to treat the broad and ever expanding spectrum of the earth sciences. Not merely investigations of the earth, but an understanding, and control of the physical world, and of space as well—especially those minor portions of space in which are found the sun, planets and their satellites. Designed to help in aspects of science teaching.

Sci. 311ES-312ES Introduction to Geology
3 hours credit each semester

A study of the physical processes that operate on and within the earth—the processes that have given the rocks of the earth's crust their composition and structure, and the forces that have shaped the landscapes. Analyses are made of the geologic agents and processes and the basic factors which entered into the origin and development of geologic features. Particular attention is given to the recognition and significant of geomorphic surfaces, effects of different climates of landscape evolution, and the physical development of the large Physiographic provinces. Occasional field trips.

Sci. 211Phy Mechanics 3 credit hours

Chiefly a problem solving course in mechanics, dealing with vectors, rotation, and moments of inertia. Prerequisite: Sci. 111P. Lectures 2 hours and Laboratory 2 hours.

Sci. 212 Heat 3 credit hours

Laws of Thermodynamics, Kinetic Theory of gases, heat engines and air-conditioning. Prerequisite: Sci. 212Phy. Lectures 2 hours and Laboratory 2 hours.

SUMMER SCHOOL

The summer school is designed to fit the particular needs of the following types of students:

1. Holders of the following certificates:
   a. Elementary A and B.
   b. Primary A, B, and C (Renewal and college credit for Primary A).
   c. Grammar A, B, and C (Renewal and college credit for Grammar A).
   d. Secondary A (Renewal and college credit).
2. College students seeking additional college credits.
3. Holders of Class A Certificates desiring to work toward renewal of present certificates.
4. Holders of any of the above-named certificates desiring to work for the bachelor's degree.
5. Special Students:
   a. High school graduates desiring college credits.
   b. Students transferring from liberal arts colleges and desiring certain required subjects obtainable in a teachers college.

RESIDENCE AND CONDUCT

Students not residents of Fayetteville, desiring to live off the campus, must write in advance for permission to live in an approved home.

Students not yet in the teaching profession are under the same rules and regulations as during the regular session.

Students who are in the teaching profession are expected to conduct themselves as ladies and gentlemen, and in a manner to reflect credit upon Fayetteville State College and upon the teaching profession.

COURSES AND SUBJECTS

The courses offered in the summer school are those required or recommended by the State Department, together with offerings from the College's curricula. All courses count toward college graduation for those who have matriculated for the bachelor's degree. Courses should be chosen with the advice of the Director and in compliance with the requirements for higher certificates and the bachelor's degree. Care must be exercised not to duplicate subjects previously taken.

SPECIAL INFORMATION FOR PERSONS SEEKING CERTIFICATION OR DEGREES WHOLLY OR PARTLY THROUGH SUMMER SCHOOL AND EXTENSION

In-service teachers, normal school graduates, or others who wish to satisfy degree or certification requirements wholly or in part through summer school work are requested to present transcripts at the Records Office and inquire upon registration concerning special regulations governing each of these special categories. Failure to do so may result in time lost by not taking the necessary requirements.

IMPORTANT NOTICE

The statements and regulations printed in this catalog are based on practices in effect during the current school year and upon those anticipated for the succeeding school year. The College reserves the right to change regulations or policies governing admission, instruction, fees, graduation, or any other regulations or policy affecting students, whenever it is deemed advantageous to the welfare or progress of the institution to do so. Such changes shall become effective at whatever time is specified by the College authorities and shall apply both to prospective students and to students already enrolled.
